Automotive Technology (Cert, AAS)

EXPLORE YOUR OPPORTUNITIES

The Automotive Technology program provides cutting-edge training for a high-demand industry. Students who enter the program have the choice of pursuing several occupational endorsement certificates, an undergraduate certificate, and an Associate of Applied Science. In addition, the AAS degree offers an opportunity to work with either Ford or General Motors. Nearly all graduates find positions working in their field.

AUTOMOTIVE TECHNOLOGY (CERT)

GENERAL MOTORS ASEP OR FORD ASSET OPTIONS
The General Motors ASEP (Automotive Student Education Program) path is a joint venture with the General Motors (GM) Company and sponsoring GM dealerships and fleets.

The Ford ASSET (Automotive Student Services Educational Training) path is a joint venture with the Ford Motor Company and Ford or Lincoln dealerships.

In both programs, students attend class for the first ten weeks of the semester and complete paid internships for the remainder of the semester. Students are responsible for obtaining a sponsorship at either a local GM-affiliated dealership or a local Ford or Lincoln dealership before registering for classes.

Both options have specific admission requirements and require demonstrated computer competency. Students must meet with a faculty advisor prior to enrolling and take the Accuplacer test to determine their readiness for English 111.

A total of 49 credits is required for this undergraduate certificate.
