Full report from the Faculty Alliance Chair is attached.

Faculty Alliance agendas and minutes can be found at the Faculty Alliance site at http://www.alaska.edu/governance/faculty-alliance/
The Faculty Alliance (FA) is currently considering, actively working on, and/or concluded work on the following issues.

- Non-teaching days across the UA system, faculty representation on newly formed statewide councils and the Student Success Collaborative (SSC)
  - The President and Chancellors have determined that a single non-teaching day will be available at each university. The specific date on which that non-teaching day will fall, will be determined by the respective chancellor.
  - Faculty governance representation on the Academic Council will consist of one faculty governance leader from each university; FA has indicated that the current, elect and upcoming-elect chair of the FA will occupy these positions.
  - One faculty member shall serve on each statewide council with the exception of the Research Council, for which one faculty member per university will serve and that selection will be made by the chancellor in consultation with the chair of each faculty senate.

  - Faculty nominees for the following statewide Council positions are requested
    - Research
      - UAA: [Name]
      - UAF: [Name]
      - UAS: Brian Buma
    - Business
    - Community Campus
    - Development
    - Human Resources
    - Information Technology
    - FA Chair: Lisa Hoferkamp
    - Institutional Research
    - Student Services
    - University Relations
    - Faculty will be involved in the roll out of the Student Success Collaborative (SSC) and opportunities for faculty input and support to ensure effective implementation will be made available.

- Strategic Pathways Phase III
  - No major restructuring is proposed but collaboration and coordination across the UA system and communities of practice, including shared faculty, shared courses and shared expertise will be encouraged and funded across campuses.
  - President Johnsen requests FA input regarding 2-3 year implementation and structuring of these communities of practice, their charge and goals.

- President Johnsen will be fostering conversations about freedom of expression and requests faculty input regarding campus efforts. Chancellors will be encouraged to support faculty efforts.
- President Johnsen will issue an internal communication describing resources and other forms of student support available to those affected by recent federal actions regarding DACA.
- The UA commitment to Title IX, as outlined in the Voluntary Compliance Agreement remains intact and changing federal regulation will have to be reviewed by legal experts before the currently agreed upon approach is altered.
- Work towards aligning course numbers, descriptions and SLOs of GERs across the UA system has progressed significantly and revisions to BoR Regulations on GERs are being discussed by the GER Alignment Working Group, the FA and President Johnsen.
- The FA is drafting a letter for submission to the President by 9/30/17 that discusses the utility and cost-efficiency of dissolving the UAA and UAF Schools of Education and the role of the Executive Dean.
- The registration process for NDS students will be aligned across the UA system by using existing Banner technology to auto-admit all NDS students in a process analogous to that in-use at UAA; Implementation will begin on Tues 9/26/17 when registrar staff will receive instructions and full functionality is anticipated by 10/6; Comments and feedback can be sent to the FA or directly to Saichi Oba.
- The Statewide Information Technology Council (ITC) is discussing implementation of a new Enterprise Resource Planning (ERP) system given that Banner 8 will no longer be supported after December 2018. Changing statewide policies and continuing budget reductions will also influence the discussion that is currently focused on the following:
  - Adoption of Banner 9 or move to an entirely new system
  - Development of an Administrative Email Policy
  - System-wide cost-cutting measures
- The Academic and Student Affairs Council subcommittee tasked with developing BoR regulation language on concurrent enrollment submitted a draft document that can be found on the FA shared drive: "GoogleDocs/shared with me/Faculty Alliance: Concurrent Enrollment reg 170920 DRAFT.docx." The FA has requested University-wide faculty review prior to submitting the draft document to UA Legal Council.
- Statewide council updates were provided at the 9/21/17 meeting of the UA Summit Team (see GoogleDocs/shared with me/Faculty Alliance: Council Charters Updates 170921.pdf)
  - Business: New travel booking and expense reporting software has been purchased through Concur. The contract will be finalized in the next two weeks. Implementation teams will disseminate information to affected individuals
  - Development: Foundation scholarships for 1st time students – changes will be made so that applications are made available on the same date across UA with a 1st come 1st serve approach to expenditure of funds
  - Human Resources: The requirement for 6 month continuous employment for access to UA courses has been removed.
  - IT: Guidelines and standards for IT projects, e.g. circumstances that solicit need for IT Council review, will be established Institutional Research: In response to information requests, the Collaborative Knowledge Network for data sharing is being implemented.

Student Services (SSC): Policy alignment will be a focus and standardized time schedules were mentioned as an issue, i.e. two different definitions of a classtime hour. It was noted that alignment of class schedules will solve some problems and introduce others. More importantly, it was pointed out to the SSC that class schedules are Academic Council matter.

University Relations: A faculty representative on this committee is specifically requested. Guidelines/parameters on issuing official UA comments will be made available to all UA employees and adherence expected.

On September 14 - 15, 2017 the UA Board of Regents (BoR) met in Juneau, AK.

The strategic vision of UA was described with 5 broad goals which will form the basis of a framework plan that the Executive Council will develop at their 9/25/17 meeting. This framework will then be circulated for university review. A final strategic plan will be complete by 10/17/17, discussed at the 10/24/17 BoR Budget meeting and presented at the full BoR meeting on 11/9/17 for consideration in the AY 19 budget.

The creation of the System-wide Summit Team and councils were described as mechanisms for change while providing accountability. The Council charters and updates are available on the FA shared drive: GoogleDocs/shared with me/Faculty Alliance:Council Charters Updates 170921.pdf

The BoR discussed the registration process at length and the need for process simplification. Various solutions to this problem were discussed and resulted in the approach discussed above.

A financial briefing was presented by CFO Myron Dorsch. The decline in state of AK grant and contract revenue from FY16 to FY17 was reported as down by 22% and enrollment from F15 to F16 down by 11%. Decreases in state general fund revenue from AY14 to AY17 have been addressed by decreases in unrestricted expenditures and a 10% increase in tuition revenue.

President Johnsen’s performance was assessed quantitatively and qualitatively with bonuses awarded in each area totaling $50,000.

A motion to develop and consider sale of an 80 acre, UA-owned parcel near Cantwell, AK passed unanimously.

Tuition rate increases of 10% and 9.5% in AY19 and AY20 resp. KOC and PWSC and 5% for all others was discussed.

Contracts with United Academics and Fairbanks Fire Fighters were approved.

A request from the Staff Alliance for changes to annual leave policy, i.e. rollover of unused time-off was postponed with a request for additional information.

A 10% fee on gifts to UA was adopted by the BoR.
The Faculty Alliance (FA) has discussed the report titled “Update on Planning for the Alaska College of Education” that was provided to the Board of Regents (BoR) on September 1, 2017 and wholeheartedly welcomes the updated plan's preservation of three separately accredited education programs at our three universities.

The NWCCU has correctly pointed out that the previous plan of completely merging the three Schools of Education would be extremely complex, time consuming and a distraction from the University’s mission and there is no guarantee on accreditation of the final product. Even the discussion of this notion has already been highly disruptive for students, staff, and faculty in education. In an effort to minimize further disruption, the FA would like to offer the following recommendations.

Preserve the three existing Schools of Education. The revised plans for a UA College of Education describe the interests that will be served by formation of a single, statewide program. The FA believes that several of these services could be provided without the costly, time-consuming and disruptive movement of education faculty at UAA and UAF to alternative colleges. Accountability for teacher education programs, establishment of consistent and standardized programs and the focus of additional resources on teacher education could be easily implemented through the existing Schools of Education, supervised by an Executive Dean that is given authority via well-defined and parallel mandates from chancellors at each of the three universities.

Workload, promotion and curricular issues should remain the purview of established practices at each university. The creation of new processes involving statewide faculty committees would be costly and time-consuming. The work product of any University faculty committee would affect each university and thus require their separate approval, adding another layer of complexity and further slowing the process.

Consider another action taken under Strategic Pathways Phase I. Is there any evidence that disbanding the UAS School of Business and placing associated faculty into the School of Arts & Sciences has resulted in any increases in cost-savings, program consistency across UA or student access? The opportunity for comparative analysis is noteworthy.

If the current direction is to be maintained, the FA suggests use of a less provocative term than “dissolution” when referring to the Schools of Education at UAA and UAF (http://www.uas.alaska.edu/chancellor/pdf/alaska-college-of-education-documents/AKCOE%20Update.pdf). It is not clear what benefit is achieved by the term "dissolve" or exactly what happens to the programs when this action is executed. Many faculty believe the term raises doubts among students and the public in general that teacher education units will continue to exist at UAA and UAF. This in turn is negatively impacting our capacity to recruit and retain qualified students and faculty. In addition, the term does not engender support among affected faculty. If the enrollment and completion goals of the proposed College of Education are to be met, existing and potential students must be assured of program continuity and UA education faculty must have a degree of certainty surrounding their status. These two criteria are fundamental to the implementation and continued success of the proposed statewide college.

The Faculty Alliance looks forward to continuing collaborative efforts as we work through these complex issues and fully embraces faculty governance roles in future deliberations.

Respectfully,

Lisa Hoferkamp
Chair, Faculty Alliance
Thank you for the email response (September 19, 2017) to Faculty Alliance requests from the August 20-21, 2017 Faculty Alliance retreat and subsequent conversations aimed at clarifying intent. Among the items addressed in those conversations was faculty representation on newly formed statewide councils and this letter is an effort to document what was agreed upon.

Faculty representation on the Academic Council will mirror that of the former Statewide Academic Council, i.e. the current Faculty Alliance Chair, the Faculty Alliance Chair-elect and the upcoming Faculty Alliance Chair-elect once removed. For AY18, these positions are held by myself, Chris Fallen and Maria Williams respectively. Prior to reinstatement of these shared governance representatives to the Academic Council, UAA Faculty Senate President Sharon Chamard, UAF Faculty Senate President Chris Fallen and UAS Faculty Senate President Megan Buzby were appointed to the VPASA Search Committee. The Faculty Alliance asks that these individuals retain those committee assignments.

Historically the Faculty Alliance chair has provided faculty representation on the Statewide Information Technology Committee and the consensus of the Faculty Alliance is for that to remain unchanged. For AY18, I will serve on the Information Technology Council.

One faculty representative from each university will serve on the Research Council. The names of representatives from UAA, UAF and UAS for the Research Council will be provided as soon as possible.

Regarding faculty representation on the remaining system-wide councils, including Student Services, Human Resources Finance/Admin/Lands/Facilities, Development, University Relations, Institutional Research and Community Campus Directors, the Faculty Alliance is in the process of identifying faculty for service. A list of those able to serve is forthcoming. Given the specific charge and focus of each of these remaining councils, the Faculty Alliance would like to revisit these council appointments in discussions with the UA President at the August 2018 Faculty Alliance Retreat. It would be much appreciated if you would provide assurances concerning that future conversation.

The Faculty Alliance looks forward to working with the system-wide councils, particularly if they can become a more efficient way for our three universities and statewide to exchange best practices, collaborate, and work together to solve the problems that concern us all.

Respectfully,

Lisa Hoferkamp
Chair, Faculty Alliance
R10.05.015 Concurrent Enrollment

A. The following regulations apply to concurrent enrollments in University of Alaska courses offered by a University of Alaska employee at a University of Alaska campus, another location that is not controlled by a pre-postsecondary educational institution, at a location that the student chooses (for distance courses), or at a computer or other facility within a pre-postsecondary institution, if the pre-postsecondary institution does not closely monitor that activity. Concurrent enrollment for classes offered on the premises of a pre-postsecondary institution, when the instructor or a class monitor is constantly engaged with the class, is addressed in R10.05.015B.

1. Enrollment at the University of Alaska imposes the same responsibilities and grants the same rights to all matriculated University of Alaska students, regardless of age or concurrent enrollment status at a pre-postsecondary institution. Student rights and responsibilities are delineated in Chapter 09.02.

2. Parents or legal guardians of pre-postsecondary students desiring concurrent enrollment shall be required to sign an authorization for University enrollment. The authorization will acknowledge receipt and understanding of information concerning:
   a. University policies and regulations concerning students (Board of Regents Policy, Chapter 9).
   b. The fact that the courses attempted and grades assigned will become part of a permanent post-secondary academic record.
   c. Effects of concurrent enrollment on future Federal financial aid eligibility.
   d. The University is an adult institution, which includes but is not limited to the following:
      1. Adult situations and adult language being discussed in class or included in required study materials, including required Title IX training.
      2. Disturbing or graphic discussions or required study materials.
      3. Unsupervised contact with adults on campuses and in buildings that are open to the public.
      4. Supplies, equipment, furnishings, and facilities that are sized for adults. In some cases, this could make it physically impossible for a child to participate in a class, or to do so safely. The university reserves the right to withdraw pre-postsecondary students from classes if they cannot use the supplies, equipment, furnishings, and facilities that are normally provided to students, or their safety in using same cannot be reasonably assured. The university will make reasonable accommodations required under the Americans with Disabilities Act.

3. The University of Alaska must exclude individuals under the age of 18 or under the age of 21, due to legal requirements, from a small number of classes and programs. These are identified in University catalogs and course schedules.

4. Parents, guardians, or other adults or minors may not attend classes solely to supervise a minor student. To accompany a minor student to class, such persons must enroll in the class. This regulation does not apply to persons assisting disabled students, when such assistance is an approved accommodation.

B. The following regulations apply to concurrent enrollments in University of Alaska courses offered on the premises of a pre-postsecondary institution, whether taught by a University of Alaska employee or University-approved instructor who is an employee of the pre-postsecondary institution, when the instructor or a class monitor is constantly engaged with the class. They do not apply to a pre-postsecondary student who is taking a University of Alaska distance course from a computer or other facility located within a pre-postsecondary institution, if the pre-postsecondary institution does not closely monitor that activity. For such distance course enrollments, see R10.05.015A.

1. If the class is taught by a UAA, UAF, or UAS faculty member, then students shall register for the university course being taught at the respective university. Normal tuition and fees will apply to each enrollment, unless there is an agreement between the pre-postsecondary institution or its school district and the respective university that provides for different rates of payment. Acceptance of the course for pre-postsecondary school credit is at the discretion of the pre-postsecondary institution, and students shall be informed by the pre-postsecondary institution of the pre-postsecondary credit that can be earned not later than the first day of class.

2. If the class is taught by an employee of the pre-postsecondary institution, then there shall be a written agreement or agreements between the pre-postsecondary institution or its school district that specify required instructor qualifications; course syllabus and intended learning outcomes; the application and registration process for students desiring university credit, including applicable deadlines; the specific university course number and credits available to be earned; required fees for students desiring university credit; student requirements and responsibilities, including the requirement to submit a signed “Authorization to Discuss/Release Educational Information form” to the school district and the university; and other matters deemed necessary by the parties.

3. Except as specifically exempted by a Tech Prep or other concurrent enrollment agreement between the pre-postsecondary institution and a UA university, enrollment at the University of Alaska imposes the same responsibilities and grants the same rights to all matriculated University of Alaska students, regardless of age or concurrent enrollment status at a pre-postsecondary institution. Student rights and responsibilities are delineated in Chapter 09.02.

4. Parents or legal guardians of pre-postsecondary students desiring concurrent enrollment shall be required to sign an authorization for University enrollment. The authorization will acknowledge receipt and understanding of information concerning:
   a. University policies and regulations concerning students (Board of Regents Policy, Chapter 9), with exceptions due to the Tech Prep or Dual Enrollment agreement indicated.
   b. The fact that the courses attempted and grades assigned will become part of a permanent post-secondary academic record.
   c. Effects of concurrent enrollment on future Federal financial aid eligibility.

5. Concurrent enrollment students attending a class or classes held only on the premises of a pre-postsecondary institution will not be required to complete University student Title IX training.

• According to University Regulation 10.02.020 for the Statewide Academic Council, the Academic Council serves to assist the VPAS in performing responsibilities listed in Board of Regents Policy P02.02.017.
• Goals:
  o Work with Statewide governance, and through the Provosts with University faculty governance, to implement existing and new Board of Regents’ policies, such as alignment of General Education Requirements and initial course placement for entering students.
  o Through the President, advise the Board on policy changes and other actions to improve academic program quality, increase student access, increase university revenue, or reduce costs.
  o Monitor Alaska’s workforce needs and coordinate University program collaboration, development, or expansion to meet those needs.
  o Develop and implement joint strategies, complementary to University strategies, to meet established enrollment goals.
  o Respond to assignments of the UA Board of Regents and the UA President.
• Authority and decision process:
  1. The AC recommends actions to the President or Board of Regents, depending on the level of decision, through the VPASA. The AC makes recommendations in the following categories:
     o Consensus of the VPASA and AC. All agree on the recommendation as presented.
     o Majority of the AC, with concurrence of the VPASA. In this case, the source(s) and nature of the dissenting views are noted in the recommendation.

  o The three provosts, the UAF VCR, and the VPASA are members of the new Summit Team, and will regularly meet with members of other Councils and will report major SAC activities to them.
  o The e-Learning Council (and Community Campus Council???) report to SAC
• Communication plan – Report to Summit Team according to the established schedule. Report to the Board of Regents annually on goals achieved and progress on remaining goals.
• Meeting Schedule – Monthly

RE: Business Council Report

The Business Council met twice since inception on July 1, 2017, and will continue to meet monthly, approximately one week before the Summit Team. As further described herein, several important initiatives are well underway.

Charter
A proposed charter is attached for review.

Strategic Pathways – Procurement
John Hebard, Chief Procurement Officer, is leading the implementation effort. A service level agreement between UAF and Statewide for the procurement function has been completed. Goals and initiatives to achieve savings via bulk purchases, process improvement/automation and policy and procedure standardization have been identified. Implementation and effort to achieve these goals will be on-going in FY18 and FY19.

Strategic Pathways – Research Administration
Rosemary Madnick, UAF Executive Director of Grants and Contracts, is leading the planning and implementation effort. To date, an inventory assessment tool identifying the various roles and responsibilities in the grants and contracts area is being completed by the universities. The tool will help organize the various roles of Grants and Contracts (G&C), with the aim of G&C leadership at UAF with service centers at UAA and UAS. In addition, the tool will help analyze those functions most viable for improvement, streamlining and/or automation across the UA System. The Business Council will continue to cross-communicate with the Research Council as planning develops. A full plan will be developed for the President in October.

Process Improvement and Automation
The President and Regents authorized $1.1m in FY18 for process improvement and automation. The CFO sent an internal RFP to the functional areas of Student, HR, Finance, IT and Institutional Research to solicit automation project proposals. A number of proposals were received, and the Business Council deliberated on all proposals. The Business Council approved nine projects in HR, Finance and Administration areas and requested additional information on several others. In total, $645,000 was allocated. The remaining $455,000 will be allocated as proposals are received. At this time, it would be helpful to receive automation or improvement proposals for student-facing technologies, so as to positively impact enrollment, retention and completion.

A summary of the approved projects to date:

HR – Open Enrollment Automation
HR – OnBase Integration (vendor forms)
HR – Online I-9 and Employee Paperwork
HR – Family Medical Leave (FML) Process Improvement
HR – Retirement files to SPARK format
Admin – Consulting support for Travel Project implementation
Admin – UA Procurement Records to OnBase
Admin – OnBase Integration for e-workflows
Finance – Replace and update property scanners and system

It is important to note that within the broad scope of the Finance and Administration, there are several very large automation or compliance projects underway that do not explicitly flow from Strategic Pathways or the $1.1 million Automation pool. These projects that arise in the normal course of operations include: travel booking tool and expense management, conversion to Banner 9, accounts receivable conversion for IRS Form 1098-T, and JV workflow. They will consume a significant amount of staff time over the next one to two years.

Strategic Pathways Directions (June 2017)
CCDC Input

The three Strategic Pathways directions below were included in the President’s Jun. 26, 2017 memo, “Expansion of Summit Team, Reorganization of System-wide Councils, and Establishment of Executive Council.” The CCDC comments to Direction #1 are listed below. Our recommendations for what are now four “Decisions/Recommendations” are listed below each of those sections.

1. Increase integration with main university campus and collaboration across community campuses. Update to be prepared by Community Campus Council, presented to the Academic Council in September.

Comment: This recommendation appears to merge two options from the Jan. 18, 2017 Community Campuses Team Report submitted to President Johnsen in response to Phase 2 of the Strategic Pathways initiative: 3) Increased Integration with Regional Universities and 6) Enhanced Collaboration and Alignment among Community Campuses across UA System. These two options are disparate and while elements of both have value, combining them into one objective may have unintended consequences. We propose that they be separated into two.

1. Increase integration with main campuses.

Comment: Increasing integration with main campuses can place constraints on a community campus that may limit its ability to expand collaboration with other community campuses. For example, UAF CTC’s integration with UAF has resulted in the college being required to charge non-resident tuition, along with many student fees applicable to the Fairbanks campus but not UAF CTC, both of which other community campuses are not required to charge. Revenue from these ‘integrated’ charges is allocated to UAF central. Thus, UAF CTC does not receive the benefit of being a community campus with lower costs to students and the integration with UAF does not result in increased revenue to the college. Lower revenue results in limited funds to pursue and develop collaboration across community campuses.

We propose the following:
• Address how to offer some community campus AAS degrees at those community campuses and main campuses that don’t offer these degrees.
a. These would need to be run through the respective curriculum processes at the affected main campuses.

- Efforts at UAA will begin this fall to determine how to best schedule e-Learning courses across the five UAA campuses.

- UAA and UAS faculty are already part of the main campus departments, attend department meetings and serve on a variety of main campus committees including governance and curriculum. Some UAF community campus faculty are members of a UAF department while others are members of specific CRCD departments.

2. Increase collaboration across community campuses.
Comment: UAS is one university with three campuses. In other words, Ketchikan and Sitka support programs at UAS through their course offerings. For example, the Ketchikan campus offers a good number of upper division classes to support the e-learning Bachelors of Liberal Arts and Bachelor of Arts in Social Sciences. It would be difficult for the Sitka and Ketchikan campuses to coordinate these classes with other community campuses without the involvement of the Juneau campus.

We propose the following:

- Discuss the possibility of the community campuses implementing a course-sharing and/or faculty sharing plan for CTE courses (to include allied health care) similar to what is already being done by UAF CTC (health, human services, applied business) and the Sitka Campus (medical assisting).

- Address how to offer some community campus AAS degrees at those community campuses and main campuses that don’t offer these degrees.
  a. These would need to be run through the respective curriculum processes at the affected main campuses.

- Create a limited trial for reduced-tuition CTE program offerings with Strategic Investment funds that would "hold community campuses harmless" in the event the reduced tuition fails to increase enrollment enough to offset the reduction. This idea was included in a memo sent to VP White on April 10 by the Statewide Career and Technical Education Tuition Team. Six CCDC members were on this team of 11 led by AVP Oba so the idea has already been fairly well vetted.

- Discuss and investigate course cost/revenue sharing across Universities for requested classes offered in community campus regions that do not administer the requested programing. For example, implementing an 80/20 split for a campus offering its programs in another community campus region. The hosting campus could support with recruitment and logistics to the offering campus’s course, receiving 20% of the revenue for their efforts and support. Head count/credit hour and 80% of the revenue would return to the offering campus.

3. Explore ways to increase campus productivity and cost effectiveness, including expansion of support for/access to e-Learning programs from main campuses.
Comment: The CCDC believes this implies only a one-way expansion to e-Learning (from main campuses to community campuses) and suggests this be changed to: “Explore ways to increase campus productivity and cost effectiveness, including expansion of support for/access to e-Learning programs between community campuses and main campuses.”
We propose the following:

- Consider expanding the existing UAOnline platform to list all locations/availability of programs in high-demand career and technical fields along with career clusters. It would also include information that shows which two-year degrees, one-year certificates and OECs can be completed 100% via distance, in addition to 4-year degrees, graduate degrees and graduate certificate. The University of Montana has a good example (does not include which programs can be pursued 100% via distance) https://mus.edu/Qtools/Degrees/degree_default.asp While UAOnline lists courses at all locations and delivery modalities, it does not include a search feature for degree/certificate programs. All campus web sites would have a prominent link to this site.

- While we understand the eLearning Council will be addressing this, the CCDC strongly supports the development of a system for community campuses to work with university departments in coordinating eLearning course offerings in a way that is fair to both the community campuses and university departments. Improved coordination will reduce detrimental duplication of eLearning courses, promote greater integration of community campuses and the universities, and foster better collaboration in a very meaningful way.

4. Explore potential partnerships with tribal and other community organizations. Possibilities include conversion to tribal colleges and stronger collaboration with regional vocational centers.

We propose the following:

- Create an inventory of current partnerships with community and tribal organizations that might be leveraged across the system.

- Assess potential models for partnership with new and existing tribal colleges within Alaska. Identify pros and cons to each of the models for meeting state educational and workforce needs.

- Explore how to expand the availability and increase the visibility of Alaska Native courses making them more accessible in all areas of the state.

General input:

- Encourage discussions at Summit Team level to eliminate out-of-state tuition for students enrolled in associate degree programs and undergraduate certificates.

- Request Summit Team support for community campuses to lead efforts to obtain community campus tuition relief from other sources such as federal funding or local government partnerships. At the federal level, there have been significant efforts to support workforce development in recent years.

- While we understand the Student Services Council will be addressing consolidation and standardization of “back room” functions between Universities and Statewide, as policies and processes are modified, the CCDC strongly encourages a focus on how the student experience will be impacted in both community campus and university settings. Streamlined navigation of student services will reduce confusion and promote retention and transferability within the UA system.

University Policies for Respective Community Campuses, CTCs & UAS Career Education

The purpose of this document is to show the differences between the three universities’ policies regarding their “stand alone” community campuses as well as at the CTCs and UAS Career Education. Many members of the various statewide Councils are likely unaware of how the campuses and CTCs/CE operate and of the differences between them. These differences should be known and considered as strategic plans are formulated to address the Strategic Pathways Decisions/Recommendations for Community Campuses.

DRAFT CHARTER - Development and Alumni System-wide Council
August 28, 2017

Mission
• This council provides coordination and collaboration to promote best practices in development, alumni relations, and advancement services throughout UA.
• This council provides a framework to support system-wide initiatives and campaigns that seek to do one or more of the following: significantly increase private giving to the university; expand the university’s donor base; improve the level and quality of alumni engagement across the UA System; and, increase public support and awareness of the university’s impact on Alaska.

Scope
• This council will meet monthly to discuss system-wide development and alumni relations functions including: coordinated fundraising; annual, major, special, and planned giving;
advancement services including donor relations and stewardship; and, campaign initiatives.

Goals
• Promote thoughtful, integrated, best-practice alumni relations and development plans.
  • Strategic engagement that creates affinity for, awareness of, and support for excellence at the University of Alaska; connecting alumni and donors to students, faculty, academic leaders, and researchers.
  • Evaluation of barriers to quality advancement work at the UA System, such as staffing, budget levels and reporting structures.
  • Collaboration and coordination with the University Relations council.

Measurement/Reporting
• Increase private support for the university, as measured by industry-standard goals for volunteerism, engagement and gifts.

Members
• Chair, Foundation President -- Susan Foley
• VP, University Relations, Statewide – Michelle Rizk
• Executive Director, UA Foundation – Megan Riebe
• VC, University Advancement, UAA – Megan Olson
• Director, Development & Alumni Relations, UAS – Lynne Johnson
• Director, Development & Alumni Relations, UAF – Emily Drygas
• Director, Alumni Relations/Executive Director UAF Alumni Association – Kate Ripley
• AVC, Alumni, UAA – Rachel Morse
• Dean, SOM, UAF - Mark Hermann
• Dean, Engineering, UAF – Doug Goering
• Dean, Engineering, UAA – Fred Barlow
• Interim Dean, CBPP, UAA – Bogdan Hoanca
• Manager, Alumni, UAS – Jessica Post
The Development Council is in an unusual position among System-wide Councils in that it does not have a Strategic Pathways plan to shape its goals. Because of this, the council has had the opportunity to explore the priorities both of the UA System and of the various constituencies represented. In the absence of Strategic Pathways, this council intends, among other things, to look to consultant reports for reference.

As noted in the attached charter, this council plans to support and expand initiatives and functions that increase private giving, expand the university’s donor base, and improve alumni engagement on every level of the UA system. Among the immediate barriers to these goals, this council intends to examine staffing, budget levels, and reporting structures. In order to meet the mission parameters as set forth in the charter, the council has tentatively noted four significant areas of interest. These areas are as follows:

1. Scholarships for Recruiting Purposes. This council notes that, when compared to other universities, UA has ceased to offer competitive scholarships, both in terms of relative funds and the timely manner that they are offered to students.
2. Philanthropy Initiative. This council hopes to explore and expand the donor base among alumni and around the state.
3. Data Flow. The Foundation and Development departments currently rely heavily on data from Raiser’s edge. The council notes, however, that there are other resources not being utilized that have the potential to improve alumni engagement.
4. Best Practices for Events. Events, for the purposes of this council, are defined as measuring strategic engagement rather than applying monetary value to specific kinds of events. This priority area is closely connected to data flow, as strategic engagement relies on data and statistics.

The council is in the process of reviewing these goals and areas of interest, and intends to establish priorities before the Summit Council meets in October.

Additionally, the Development Council has agreed to request that the name of the council be changed to the Development and Alumni Council to reflect the significance of alumni relations to the various constituencies represented in the council.

Plan for interaction with other councils
Interaction/collaboration with all councils as necessary and with other councils as issues require.
In late June 2017 Institutional Research System-wide council membership was formally expanded via a global update to the organization and roles of all UA system-wide councils. The newly formalized Institutional Research System-wide Council includes the four IR officers from UAA, UAF, UAS and UA/SW as well as leaders from IT, Student Services, Academic Affairs and academic units, each bringing valuable perspective to the group.

Initial deliverables assigned to the council included creation of a draft council charter and an initial report and implementation plan for the proposed Collaborative Knowledge Network. To address this charge, the Council adopted an aggressive schedule of weekly meetings between July 17 and August 29, 2017.

A final, draft charter for consideration and approval was unanimously adopted by the council on August 22.

The Collaborative Knowledge Network report and implementation analysis required the council to deal with a number of intricate issues, both technical and strategic. As the Strategic Pathways IR Options team first noted, the CKN is the most promising option relative to the charge, as well as the most difficult option to successfully implement relative to the current state of the university system. The council's initial report and action plan elements was completed September 8 and is undergoing a last review by committee members.
Collaborative Knowledge Network Report and Implementation Planning

Institutional Research System-wide Council

September 8, 2017
Introduction

The Institutional Research Council formed in 2004 and since inception has served as a primary conduit for communication, collaboration and decision-making by IR leaders and staff. Collaboration has been a core value of the IR function for nearly two decades. Many of the “low hanging” fruit relative to improving operations have already been picked, so to speak, leaving only the more challenging and/or complicated strategies going forward. Institutional research professionals within the UA system understand the priorities set by the BOR, President, and university leadership, and are as responsive as possible to those needs under the current operating conditions.

In late June 2017 IR council membership was formally expanded via a global update to the organization and roles of all UA system-wide councils. The newly formalized Institutional Research System-wide Council membership includes:

The new IR Council was directed as follows:

1. Creation of a Collaborative Knowledge Network will be pursued without delay. It will be led by a newly formalized IR Council with members from Statewide and each university. Priority should be on process improvement, standardization, and automation.

2. The IR Council will present its initial report and implementation plan to the President September 1.¹

To address this charge, the Council adopted an aggressive schedule of weekly meetings between July 17 and August 29, 2017, developing the Collaborative Knowledge Network report and implementation planning information presented herein.

¹ Due date updated to September 8, 2017.
Findings

This document outlines CKN items the IR System-wide council identified as reasonable for immediate pursuit, as well as giving a comprehensive look at the viability of each CKN component, and feedback on areas identified for further analysis.

The Collaborative Knowledge Network (CKN) concept was identified by the Strategic Pathways IR Council Options team as the “optimal mix of decentralization and consolidation that will support improvements in service and cost effectiveness through the division of labor, and the systematic use of automation, data and process standardization, and intercampus collaboration.” The team noted that while the CKN was the most promising option relative to the charge, it was also the most difficult option to successfully implement, relative to the current state of the university system. A number of the best practices identified in the CKN have been attempted in the past with varying outcomes and long-term sustainability, and/or are already occurring to some degree now. This report focuses on clearing a path to success for implementation of many, if not all, of the CKN elements, over time. Appendix A, starting on page 7, describes the CKN option proposal in detail.

The following is a summary of next steps for implementation planning:

Level 1 – Data Architecture, Governance, and Administration/Warehousing

- Significant improvements in documentation related to IR-produced data products
  - Adopted process\(^2\) for developing/updating and documenting data and data definitions in a systematic, collaborative manner will be refined and updated based on experiences and needs of individuals who used the process, as well as those identified in the RACI matrix who did not participate in the process over the last year.
  - For significant improvement, leadership will need to consistently require use of such a process. This may necessitate more planning time and cross-functional, cross-university/SW work by leaders and staff on the front end of data-related projects and proposals, resulting over time in delivery of better information and avoidance of costly re-work to fix issues identified post-implementation.

• IR work will utilize the same applications, server, and database

  o This item looks to improve efficiency and effectiveness of resource use in support of the Level 1 function. First step is to assess the technical impacts and resource requirements of transitioning away from the partially duplicative maintenance of major database/data warehouse instances at UA/SW and UAA, each utilizing different database types (Oracle and MS SQL server). There may be significant near-term resource and time costs to both UA/SW IR and IT, and UAA IR to effect the transition.

  o Second step is to set deliverables and timeline to transition to a common set of data administration and warehousing tools and one data warehouse instance, including identification of accountable and responsible entities.

• Other items, such as the addition of Level 1 staff FTE, may be more difficult to implement now. Full details are available in the matrix provided in Appendix B, starting on page 12 of this report.

Level 2 – Reporting

• The first step toward adopting all Level 2 items is for the IR Council and each university/SW community to reach a mutual understanding and agreement of what is appropriate to share.

• Second step is to establish and populate a centrally available, queriable repository for work products in this category. Several viable options for such a repository are in use at UA now.

• Utilize a common set of tools for Level 2 work

  o Council supports leveraging and scaling up a set of core, automated SharePoint reports based on the suite of work products collaboratively developed and in use by UAA and UAS. Support resources for this effort are intended to become available through reduction of database/data warehouse redundancy described in Level 1.

Level 3 - Analytics

• Identify examples of past advanced analytics projects conducted in IR offices.

  o This can begin immediately.

  o A venue for regular sharing should be identified.

• Share the models, methodologies, final reports, etc. with the other IR offices so that each office can focus on improving the quality of reporting for their institution instead of completing from scratch a model, methodology, final report, etc. that already exists elsewhere in the system.
First step toward implementing this item is for the IR Council and the university community to reach a mutual understanding and agreement of what is appropriate to share.

Next step is to establish and populate a centrally available, queriable repository for work products in this category.

- The remaining Level 3 item, identification of a common set of tools for advanced analytics, may be more difficult to implement now. Full details are available in the matrix provided in Appendix B for Level 3 on page 13.

Areas for Further Analysis

Five broad topics were identified along with the CKN concept as requiring further analysis for implementation planning. Each topic and a summary of observations follow.

A. Executive Commitment: genuine, broad, and sustained over multiple years
This item refers to a willingness and commitment of leaders throughout the university community to consistently support best practice strategies and principals for the IR function. Operational and strategic choices sometimes appear to be made based on what will create the least disruption or controversy, although the more challenging or complicated choice was identified as optimal to move the IR function forward.

B. Change Management
This item refers to the need for continuous quality assessment and quality control principals to be actively applied to the CKN as it is developed and maintained. Such principals should be purposefully and systematically applied to business practices within IR, as well as in other key functions having significant impact on IR’s ability to be effective. For example, the IR council identified and several suggestions for the IT Council’s consideration that would significantly improve the IR function’s ability to meet its charge. See Appendix C, starting on page 14.

C. Governance Structure
On a day-to-day basis, this is a key consideration for successful CKN implementation and maintenance. The Institutional Research System-wide council needs to develop and implement an appropriate structure. Several governance models are commonly identified at the national level for the contemporary IR function that may serve as a starting point for consideration.
D. Resource Analysis
The council discussed the need for each IR office to provide some basic information as a starting point for resource analysis and identification of areas where further optimization may be possible. Examples of key information includes, but is not limited to: mission responsibilities, which are unique among the four offices; a catalog of services and routine reporting; areas of relative strength and weakness; available resources (staff, space, software licensing, etc). A formal resource analysis of the IR function was last conducted in 2004 for the Administrative Operating Effectiveness and Cost Savings Review, and may provide some structure for cataloging and analyzing this area today.

E. Equitable Allocation of Resources
A reasonable allocation of resources under the new CKN paradigm is yet to be defined. Over the last several years, staffing levels at some IR offices have grown while reductions occurred at other offices. This is assumed to simply be the observed result of different administrative approaches and priorities in meeting annual “MAU” level budget shortfalls over the last few years, as well as differences in the magnitude of annual cuts needing to be absorbed at each “MAU”. The way in which IR resources could be equalized under a new operational model should be carefully considered.

Other Considerations
The challenges faced by UA’s IR function are not unique. Key observations made in the recent publication A New Vision for Institutional Research (Swing and Ross, 2016) are directly relevant to the topics covered in this report and may help identify how IR should plan to adapt for maximum effectiveness over time.

Institutional Research Staff FTE Distribution: Transformation via the Collaborative Knowledge Network
Option 4 – Collaborative Knowledge Network

Narrative Description

The Collaborative Knowledge Network option was developed by the IR Strategic Pathways team to identify the optimal mix of decentralization and consolidation that will support improvements in service and cost effectiveness through the division of labor, and the systematic use of automation, data and process standardization, and intercampus collaboration. This option recognizes the importance of streamlining processes and technologies across the four IR offices while also maintaining IR expertise and leadership at each institution. Broad changes have been proposed for the implementation team’s consideration that will (1) significantly increase IR’s contributions to standardized data warehousing and automated reporting, (2) decrease IR’s efforts focused on manually developing static reports, and (3) increase IR’s capabilities focused on advanced analytics and complex research projects. These changes are expected to result in reduced institutional operating costs over time and increased access to accurate, current, and consistently collected information that is meaningful, insightful, and action-oriented.

Implementing the Collaborative Knowledge Network option would naturally lead to a few challenges related to streamlining processes and technologies. Additionally, this option would be the most complex to implement due to the highly collaborative nature of this model. Broad leadership buy-in and a sustained multi-year commitment from the executive level would be central to the successful implementation of this option.

Diagram Overview

The IR Strategic Pathways team has developed a diagram to clarify the broad changes that have been proposed as part of the Collaborative Knowledge Network option. The vertical axis has been disaggregated by three of the main functions that the four IR offices provide to their institutions: (1) data warehousing, (2) operational reporting, and (3) advanced analytics. Current workloads at each IR office result in most of the FTE focused on level 2. However, the IR Strategic Pathways team sees value in increasing the FTE focused on level 1, reducing FTE focused on level 2, and increasing the FTE focused on level 3-resulting in a shift from a fishbowl-shaped organizational structure to an hour-glass shaped organizational structure.
Level 1: Streamline queries and applications for database extraction, business intelligence reporting, and advanced analytics. Centralize most database queries and views in a new database schema that links directly with automated reports. A new operational database analyst—complementing the existing DSDMGR database analyst—manages this schema and co-develops queries, views, and tables with each IR office to ensure that they are accurate and meaningful. All IR offices will work from the same applications, server, and database. Significant improvements in documentation related to IR-produced tables, queries, functions, procedures, etc.

Level 2: Identify a core set of reports developed by each IR office. Share report designs, benchmarks, best practices, etc. so that each IR office can focus on improving the quality of reporting for their institution instead of completing from scratch a report that already exists elsewhere in the system. Well-designed database-linked automated reports can—over time—replace some of the efforts that currently consume a significant amount of time for daily reporting and open/close freeze reporting. This will allow IR offices to develop new and higher quality reports, increase data literacy at each institution, and focus on complex research projects and advanced analytics.

Level 3: Determine the appropriate applications that should be used at each IR office to conduct advanced analytics. Identify examples of past advanced analytics projects conducted in IR offices. Share the models, methodologies, final reports, etc. with the other IR offices so that each office can focus on improving the quality of reporting for their institution instead of completing from scratch a model, methodology, final report, etc. that already exists elsewhere in the system.
Option 4 continued – Collaborative Knowledge Network

Key Change Elements

- Offering Changes: Increased capacity for managing the data warehouse will increase the time available to develop well-designed reports that follow best practices and conduct deeper research and advanced analytics that follow best practices. Potential to provide higher level of service. Promotes a more open sharing environment for database queries and report designs. Day-to-day IR tasks would be more efficient. Increased capacity to answer ‘big questions’.

- Staffing Changes

4b = Added investment in IR applied to Collaborative Knowledge Network option

Note: This table provides approximations for illustrative purposes and ultimately may vary depending on the decisions by the implementation team and executive leadership.

- Use of Facilities/Technology: Similar to current levels. Small increase in license fees for advanced analytics software. Automation would not require much investment if the UA System follows the process currently used by UAA IR and UAS IE (e.g. SSMS, Reporting Services, SharePoint, Excel). However, if a different application is purchased (e.g. EAB APS, Tableau, Domo, etc.) this could require significant upfront investment and recurring costs.

- Access for Students and Other Clients: Access should increase significantly due to increased collaboration across the four IR offices, improved data warehousing, automated reports (data portals and dashboards).

- Administration: Current services to the universities and system offices would be maintained.

- Front-End Investment: Dependent on details from implementation team. Any new costs are seen by the group as investments with real potential to improve efficiencies and increase revenue throughout the system.

- Community (External) Engagement: Public-facing self-service data interface would increase access to accurate, current, and consistently collected data.

- Product Quality: Increased availability of accurate, current, and consistently collected data that can be linked with automated reports. Automated reports and advanced analytics projects would be developed and designed by each IR office for executives, staff, faculty, students, etc. at their institution. Increased quality of the design of reports and the increased use of national standard benchmarks and best practices.

Ready for Implementation?
Yes, following successful identification and adoption of prioritization criteria, common method for documenting and sharing.

Committee Comments
Need a consistent method/language for sharing. Criteria for identifying the most impactful, priority items that should be focused on for this work are not mutually agreed to and should be established before this work begins.

Current State
Several industry-standard tools are available and being explored at UA/SW and other units.

Need to Address & Next Steps
A business process for systematic use of these could be developed and implemented, assuming clear agreement and mutual buy-in/commitment from IR offices about sharing.

<td>Committee Comments</td>
<td>UAA and UAS indicate this investment is important but not a prerequisite to successful implementation of the CKN components over a longer period of time; UA and UA/SW indicate it would not be possible to implement the CKN without the additional staffing for level 1 functions. Regardless of whether an expansion occurs to add operational data warehouse support, all agree the current level 1 function is understaffed and may represent a single point of failure. There is 1 FTE at UA/SW staffing all of Level 1 now, with a backlog of work, and the only backup staff for this position is the Associate VP.</td>
<td>Eventually, reduction or elimination of duplication of effort occurring now at UA and UAA will free up staff capacity for other activities. It may also help address some performance issues occurring now with required daily transfers of large amounts of raw data between the two systems, by performing data transformation and load processes on the same server.</td>
<td>Gaps in documentation for data definitions are more apparent and easier to identify when data are actually used. UAS and UAA expressed concern that identifying this as a prerequisite element will hinder progress on CKN implementation, while UA/SW and UAF identify this as a critical step towards advancing a more coherent and accessible data service to the broader university community. Documentation of this kind of information will aide in new IR employee onboarding. Much of this information exists today in an undocumented manner, a kind of institutional memory that is lost when IR professionals retire or otherwise move on. This step is perceived to be best accomplished over time in an iterative, incremental way, i.e., documentation is constantly improved as new knowledge is obtained and old systems/methods fade.</td>
<tr>
<td>Current State</td>
<td>There is no central operational database analyst support function now. A few operational data projects are supported by UA/SW, i.e. the Early Semester report reporting data used by all universities,</td>
<td>Partially duplicative in function, two major database/data warehouse instances are maintained by UA/SW and UAA, utilizing different database types (Oracle and MS SQL server) - there may be others at campuses or units not identified. A variety of tools are used, including SAS, PL SQL, MS SQL, TOAD and likely others that have not been identified.</td>
<td>IR council developed and adopted a process, with specific RACI assignments, to respond to Statewide Transformation Team recommendations. However, the process is not widely utilized outside UA/SW and required OMB performance reporting. Its recognized that this task is a separate responsibility of the IR council that will need to progress regardless of CKN adoption. This element alone most effects the IR function's capacity to efficiently and effectively provide data warehousing services to UA. A resulting example of the status quo are the comprehensive race and ethnicity data collection and reporting update for all UA data systems that were developed and approved for implementation by each university's leadership and the Summit Team in spring 2017, independent of the adopted, systematic review process. Use of the process would have proactively addressed and resolved areas where the recommendations do not comply with federal requirements. A greater amount of work/re-work to address these issues post-hoc are now required, along with taking longer than desired to implement the changes.</td>
<tr>
<td>Need to Address &amp; Next Steps</td>
<td>A business process for systematic use of these could be developed and implemented, assuming clear agreement and mutual buy-in/commitment from IR offices about sharing.</td>
<td>Functional areas, such as student services, finance, etc. may be in a good position to define operational data needs directly, in addition to IR offices. Success of this item will depend, in large part, on completion of other Level 1 strategies.</td>
<td>Added executive commitment is a prerequisite for success in this area, to ensure proper data definition development vetting is consistently conducted even when timelines are tight and pressure is high to get something done. Although this has been a stated leadership priority for many years, it is unclear that disciplining and documenting reporting methodology is a relative priority compared to other leadership foci. Resource availability and commitment within the IR function and in functional areas, i.e. student, financial aid, finance, human resources, research and sponsored programs, etc. at all levels and locations is required to achieve valid, transparent and replicable data and data definitions documented according to approved processes and guidelines. Recommend prioritizing areas for this work as a way to move forward on this without eating the whole elephant all at once.</td>

| Committee Comments | This step seems to be the inventory work that is frequently identified as a need. | A scalable repository needs to be used for these kinds of outputs. Work products may not always be adopted without modification, however having direct access to a library of work completed by others would be helpful in seeing "how they did it". Such sharing sometimes occurs easily now for reports and data products in cases when one office is aware a report exists and/or the authoring office is willing and able to share. On the flip side, there are situations where sharing does not occur for unknown reasons, or when the product may be considered proprietary (e.g. recruitment plans, proposal applications, etc). | Current State | Limit universe of UA/SW data, code, work products and projects are available to each university IR office via Redbear shared server and data warehouse. | Committee Comments | There were a spectrum of reactions to this item, summarized here: Supporting: Having a standard set of technology for this purpose makes development of mining easier. Lower cost of software and infrastructure, ensures portability of technical pieces like code, and promotes collaboration. Neutral: This could be implemented later after earlier steps are established. Not in support: To dictate what software should be used is not appropriate. IR offices should take advantage of the different skills of IR employees, not lock people into learning something new just for the sake of standardization of software; the skills set of IR type people in Alaska are narrower. | The university perspective was that research questions are often unique to each institution, and research conducted at one university is not appropriate for another university. UA/SW’s perspective was that some research is applicable across campuses or universities if of interest to the BOR or legislature or if considering student populations that attend more than one campus or university. There is support to have a forum to share information, for example the “PAIR Share” one-hour sessions – it’s helpful to explain to colleagues what we do and how we do it. Knowledge in this way expands and collaboration strengthens. |

| Current State | Variety of applications are in use, including SAAS, R, SPSS, STATA, Excel and a number of others. Response to: What are the top 5 IT “pain points”, roadblocks or opportunities for improvement, from the perspective of your area?

1) Meet the first charge of the Information Technology Council: “Establish IT policy and administrative and operational standards”

   - In alignment with the adopted objectives of the ITC’s charter, e.g. articulating priorities in support of mission, and decision authority cut points relative to cost, scope, stakeholder and/or customer impact, etc.
   - Adopt a process and timeline to reach completion

2) UA/UAA/UAF/UAS Executive level commitment (genuine, broad and sustained over multiple years) to utilize and support the Project Management function and its operations in accordance with standard best practices:

   - Transparent, inclusive, complete project vetting, prioritization and planning functions, used for all projects of a minimum scope and magnitude, as defined in IT policy and administrative and operational standards (item 1).
   - Transparent project portfolio management, connecting resource planning with project execution

3) Include IR as a primary stakeholder and/or customer in potential modifications to data and applications environment, to prevent data discontinuity and allow UA’s data architecture development, maintenance and BI needs to be met (in accordance with cut point criteria defined in IT policy and administrative and operational standards (item 1)). IR function is responsible to set data and data architecture standards to meet trend reporting, operational analysis, and compliance needs. Items to address in this area include, for example:

   - Communicate when applications are being adopted and how data will articulate with Banner – whether data source is SaaS or locally hosted, transparency on data structure and how it will articulate; include addition of RTPP snapshots of databases/applications not intended or possible to articulate to Banner, i.e. Adirondack, Lumens, Raiser’s Edge, defined to meet IR’s and their customer’s needs as part of application implementation plan.
Maintain easily accessible living technical documentation for core data services/products such as RPTP data refresh schedules, reports schema, data structures for RPTP snapshots of Banner, Lumens, Adirondack data, etc.

When programmers are requested to modify Banner, ensure IR and other stakeholders are consulted and informed, i.e. web time entry solution changed how data flows through Banner, causing surprise issues and rework for IR.

Expanded management/archiving of RPTP tables and other data services through automated ETL of daily snapshots, allowing for year-over-year operational analysis, i.e. cubes or snapshots with value added fields.

Support IR in attaching visual analytic software (e.g., dashboards, business intelligence tools) directly to RPTP.

4) Communication & Setting Realistic Expectations. Providing information that is understandable and accurate will prevent any perception of a lack of responsiveness.

- Identify key points of contact for each IT function, at UA, UAF, UAA and UAS. This allows for development of relationships and understanding between IT personnel and IR (or any other function’s) personnel.
- Set and clearly communicate realistic service level and timing expectations, updating customers as needed
- Translate the IT organizational structure, functions and responsibilities to layperson speak and communicate to the UA community - explain what IT leaders and staff across the whole system actually do, and indicate who is responsible for what. Right now, organizational structure is stated in undefined IT terms that laypeople (and many others) do not understand or relate to.

We don’t have a 5th priority - these 4 are the most important.
Report of the Information Technology Council
September 2017

The Information Technology Council (ITC) was formed in the Fall of 2016 in accordance with the System wide IT Governance project. The Council has been operating since February 2017 under a charter approved by President Johnsen. A slightly revised charter is included as part of this report and for review by the Summit Team.

The Information Technology Council (ITC) is a standing body within the University of Alaska created to establish IT policy and administrative and operational standards, to analyze and set priorities for investment in information technology initiatives, and to ensure excellence and best practice in implementation in a way that directly supports UA mission attainment.

The ITC is responsible for defining level 2 and level 3 governance committees, establishing the procedures and standards by which they operate, and will be accountable for the work of those groups in accordance with policies, practices, and standards.

The ITC will establish and cultivate Enterprise Architecture strategies throughout the organization and specify priority, supported and best-practice architectures throughout system establishing measures as needed to ensure a common strategy.

The ITC will advise the University of Alaska (UA) President and Summit Team and is charged to consider, decide and/or recommend strategic or operationally significant matters relating to shared and potentially shared Information Technology, according to the policies and processes of the University of Alaska. It is responsible for overseeing the analysis, design, development, implementation, and evaluation of designated UA shared IT services in facilitation of the UA Mission.

Guiding Principles: The ITC will be distinguished as a collaborative, student-focused group with transparency and consultation across all its members; planning for matters such as relevant Cabinet, Summit or Board agendas; identification of responsible individuals to undertake tasks agreed to by the Council; and other work products of the Council.

The ITC will engage with other UA Executive Councils and business and academic leaders in support of all service initiatives. The ITC will ensure strategic alignment of IT initiatives, appropriate allocation of UA resources as to avoid unnecessary duplication, and mission-focused outcomes that allow strategic mission differentiation when necessary.

Values: The ITC will embody the values of being: student and mission focused, data-driven, transparent, inclusive, collaborative, timely, responsive, service oriented and respectful.

Meetings:

The Council has met monthly since February 2017.

Activities and Actions:
One of the first tasks of The Council was to prioritize system wide IT spend reduction recommendations for achieving FY18 budget reduction and Strategic Pathways targets. These activities took much of the Spring with the ITC tasking the CIO Management Team with categorization, prioritization and explanation of impact. While the group identified many potential cost savings that are being turned into projects to implement, the larger discussions that have greater impact and implications were deferred.

• Ensure the effective and efficient use of IT in enabling the University to achieve its goals;
• Provide consistent and comprehensive UA technology leadership that is aligned with the strategic priorities and mission of the University of Alaska;
• Support the appropriate agenda and preparation for the UA Board of Regents as requested by the UA Administration;
• Establish and maintain processes/procedures that ensure individual institutions are appropriately consulted, represented, informed, accountable and/or responsible regarding the planning, deployment and operations of system-wide technology;
• Establish and follow mechanisms for shared services that are well-articulated, transparent and equitable for all institutions;
• Establish procedures and measures to monitor adherence to decisions and policies (compliance and assurance);
• Ensure that processes, behaviors, and procedures are in accordance with policies and within risk tolerances to support decisions;
• Facilitate efficiency and effectiveness through System-wide collaboration and the provision of technology shared services, while allowing for institutional academic differentiation
• Ensure practices that successfully evaluate, select and execute implementation of system-wide technology solutions.

Committees
• The ITC will identify and establish Level 2 standing committees and Level 3 task forces to be formed and retired as deemed appropriate by the ITC.
  o An example of a Level 2 Committee is a standing committee focused on Enterprise Applications, Instructional Technologies or Security. An example of a Level 3 Committee is a short-term, focused Task Force to study, make recommendations and possibly implement a specific technology solution, project or problem such as a new parking application, new learning management system or specific upgrade to an existing solution.
• Each ITC member also serve on a Level 2 committee.
• ITC Level 2 committees will be formed including members from throughout the campus community.

Membership Structure/ Roles: Decision-making will be by majority vote of ITC members. Decisions may be elevated to the President, in which case decisions will be made at that level.

Role of the Chair
The Chair is responsible for convening the ITC and its meeting logistics, agenda creation and triage. The Chair actively promotes the collaborative nature of the group and ensuring that, to the fullest extent possible, items of collective interest are shared in a timely fashion so as to permit thoughtful consideration of potential actions and advice from other members and the institutions they represent. The Council Chair serves as initial point of contact for the UA System Office and the Board of Regents.

Meeting Procedures
To be established at first meeting of the ITC, however, it is expected that the ITC will conduct regular meetings on a monthly basis.

All ITC Members’ Responsibilities
Each member of ITC will be expected to:
• Attend and actively participate
• Chair or sponsor a Level 2 committee or Level 3 task force
• Conduct appropriate background research
• Participate in the IT strategic planning process

The Council shall be responsible for the coordination of inter-institutional relations to promote and leverage emerging research opportunities. The council shall build an inclusive, transparent, and efficient research environment that will enable researchers to write competitive proposals and carry out successful research projects.

Goals of the Research Council
1. Provide strategic vision and investment priorities for research.
2. Develop an implementation plan relevant to Strategic Pathways Phase 1 goals for research administration.
3. Highlight systemwide research expertise and synthesize key accomplishments for communicating to external constituents.
4. Serve as an information conduit for legislators, agencies, and potential collaborators.

Meeting and Reporting
The Council will initially meet once a month and then determine the frequency of future meetings after one year.
The Council will report to the Summit Team, and will also seek input from the Summit Team as appropriate.

Plan for interaction with other councils:
The Council shall interact primarily and frequently with the UA Academic, Business, and Institutional Research councils. It is anticipated that collaboration will also be needed with the councils of Information Technology, Human Resources and Student Services to address common interests.

Communication plan:
The Council will communicate regularly with the Summit Team and will present an overall plan for Council activities to the UA President in October 2017. This plan will expand on the Council charter and incorporate procedures for external communications, including collating information suitable for the UA Board of Regents, the Alaska Legislature, and a wider national and international audience.

Member update to the UA Summit Team

The System-wide Council on Research have met twice since our establishment; both meetings were focused upon discussions of our role and purpose, which we attempted to articulate in our Charter. Preliminary discussions involved exploring the actions required for effective research administration. The comprehensive discussion of administrative functions was parsed according to those duties that both share common concerns across all Alaska universities and would benefit from jointly addressing those topics.

Our charter was created through discussion and collaborative revisions. It remains as a strategic document that will be continually updated as needed.

The SW Council on Research will meet on a monthly basis. Future topics of discussion include:

- Demonstrating the value of research to Alaskan citizens and legislators
- Promoting joint use of research facilities to maximize productivity and efficiency

Our next scheduled meeting will be September 13, 2:00pm.

Financial Aid

Deanna Dieringer, Director of Financial Aid, UAF
Sonya Stein, Director of Financial Aid, UAA
Allison Bakumenko, Financial Aid Technical Analyst, UAA
Janelle Cook, Director of Financial Aid, UAS

In general, the offices of financial aid across UA already conduct business in the same manner because most financial aid programs are heavily regulated by federal and/or state statute.

In addition, those process or procedures not already governed by federal or state mandates reflect specific academic or institutional policies. An example of such individual policies can be found in the Return of Title IV funds.

A university is obligated to return Title IV funds (commonly referred to as R2T4) if a student fails to complete all courses that he/she enrolls in for the semester. In order to calculate exactly how much must be returned, the financial aid office needs to know when the student last attended each course they were enrolled in. The faculty of the course would need to enter or supply this information to avoid returning a significant portion of the student’s aid. Currently, the students last date of attendance is not uniformly captured by all universities.

- UAA requires faculty to provide a last date of attendance for students who do not complete the course.
- UAS records the last date of attendance if the student receives an F, or NB - No-Basis (not if for a W - Withdraw).
- UAF is planning to implement the requirement in the fall of 2017 for all of the "non-completion" grade types (W - Withdraw, I - Incomplete, NB - No Basis, & F).

In some cases the universities approach or process are driven by philosophical differences. An example of these disparate philosophies can be seen in how the universities develop cost of attendance budgets. These budgets are used to help students and families gain a better understanding of the total costs of attendance - not simply tuition and fees at the universities.

Each university presents attendance costs based on student level - i.e. undergraduate and graduate. UAA and UAF further delineate undergraduate costs between lower division and upper division; UAS does not.

Each university also includes cost estimates dependent on living location. UAS uses only two categories: living on-campus or living off-campus; UAA and UAF use on- and off-campus and also includes a third category: ‘with parents’ (for UAF the cost estimates for room and board do not change whether a student is living on-campus or off-campus however if ‘with parents’ the estimate does not include room or rental costs).

The universities all use the same categories of residency: Alaska resident, non-resident and Western Undergraduate Exchange and provide costs estimates accordingly.

The results are variations of overall total costs of attendance for each university. Below are cost estimates for full-time, Alaska resident undergrad, living off campus, at each of the Universities.

The Financial Aid directors did identify several areas where further discussion on policy alignment could lead to process alignment and perhaps even centralization. The list includes:

- Student Verification (part of the FAFSA process for some students)
- Gainful Employment Reporting
- Certifying VA Benefits
- Total Cost of Attendance Budgets
- Degree audit
- Academic year set-up

Next steps

In addition to reviewing the list above, the directors suggested SW help locate examples of other public university systems that may have centralized or consolidated some or all of the financial aid functions and arrange for the Fin Aid Directors to discuss with such institutions their experiences, the pros, cons and lessons learned.

Additionally a consultant, someone with technical Banner experience from outside UA, could help provide suggestions on ways to collaborate and create efficiencies that we do not easily recognize.

While there is a need to engage in quality 'brainstorming', we have to recognized this requires time and capacity - both in short supply right now. The directors (and many UA faculty and staff) are in a Catch-22, we are asking them to brainstorm so they can come up with ways to be more efficient but they are in an environment that is operating at or near at capacity and they don’t have the time to brainstorm.

Finally, a rather poignant comment from one of the directors seemed to sum up the discussions quite well “it is hard for me to think outside this box because I have been in the box for so long - but can't help but think there is a better way to do this business…”

Registration

Barbara Hegel, Registrar, UAS
Lindsey Chadwell, Interim Registrar, UAA
Lora Volden, Interim AVC, UAA
Michael Earnest, Registrar, UAF
Unlike financial aid, the policies surrounding the work of the Registrars and their staffs are for the most part not federally mandated (FERPA of course is a major exception) but rather reflect the academic and institutional policies of their respective universities.

As with the Financial Aid directors, the Registrars support greater policy alignment - which would then lead to process alignment.

The list of areas in which policy alignment could be recommended include:

- Grading
  - Use of ‘+’, ‘-’
  - Incompletes
  - Deferred grades
- Last Date of Attendance (Financial Aid also mentioned this)
- Admission Deadlines
- Fee Payment Deadlines (Financial Aid also mentioned this)
- Calculating cost of attendance budgets (Financial Aid also mentioned this)
- Exceptions to policies (differing practices)
- Residency requirements for tuition exceptions (differing practices)
- Active status (how long before catalog expires?)
- Expired applications for admissions
- Academic standing / Reinstatement
- Academic Bankruptcy
- When the academic year starts
- Drop for non-payment
- Summer term alignment
- Common Course numbering

Discussions about greater alignment and collaboration have gone on for years between the Registrars, staffs across the campuses and Statewide. I was reminded that in 2008 and again in 2013 a memo suggesting greater collaboration between the universities was shared with the Office of the Vice President for Academic Affairs. I was able to locate a copy of the memo and have included the contents below. Many of the items identified in 2008 have been acted upon and implemented.

Next steps

The Registrars have suggested that further policy work will necessitate involving academic affairs, student affairs and in some cases information technology and financial services (this same recommendation was made in the 2008 memo.)

The Registrars have also boldly offered two items that could profoundly change the student experience at UA: eliminate the need to transfer courses between UA campuses - meaning a course taken at one UA campus is credit earned at any UA campus.

Additionally, even if policies can be fully aligned, we may be approaching the limitations of our current ERP (Banner) to serve students in light of the expectations many now arrive with having grown accustomed to Amazon, Google and Netflix and while replacing an ERP is an enormous task, the Registrars are openly asking if it is time to visit the question of whether or not to replace Banner.

Contents from the memo to the UA VPAA, dated January 8, 2008:

Recall this past fall during your address of the UA Banner Student User’s at their annual meeting; you asked the group “what could you do as the VPAA to help them?”

Over the proceeding months these same users responded with a document (see attached) offering their perspective on areas of alignment that would help staff better serve students. It is important to note: these recommendations are from staff at the campus, who help students every day with daily transactions – moments of truth – in which their ability to efficiently serve their students is often challenged because of business process that reflect artificial boundaries rather than student centered practices.

The recommendations cut across boundaries – student services, academic affairs and information technology. My sense is a joint meeting with the three councils (SAC, SSC and ITC) should be called so that these groups can begin to discuss these suggestions.

I have shared this document with you and the Student Services Council (SSC) previously – and per your request have now added this cover memo.

Thank you.

RE: University Relations Council Report

The University Relations Council has met twice since its creation, on July 19 and August 21, and will continue to meet monthly during approximately the third week of each month.

Charter
A copy of the council’s draft charter, with appendix, is attached for your review.

Strategic Pathways Update
1. The council was directed to conduct a communications needs assessment to reduce redundancies, find opportunities for cost efficiency, and increase alignment throughout the system. The council is requesting an extension for this directive, as conducting the needs assessment requires significant time and planning in order to make the results as useful as possible. We expect to present the results of the needs assessment to you by mid-November. The framework for the needs assessment follows this memo for your review.

2. The council was also instructed to ensure that each university form its own Public Relations (PR) Council with representatives from key university centers, departments, community campuses, research institutes, and athletics. A document describing the make-up of each university’s PR council (with the exception of UAS, which does not have a formal council due to its small size) follows this memo for your review.

Appendix

Appendix A: University Relations structures at each university and statewide:

Statewide: Statewide University Relations is led by a vice president of university relations (VP/UR).
Statewide University Relations includes public affairs, government relations and development (UA Foundation).

UA Office of Public Affairs is led by an associate vice president of public affairs, who reports to VP/UR and focuses on proactive communications, media/public relations, stakeholder and internal communications, social media, website management and crisis management at the system level. OPA also is charged with supporting the University of Alaska president and Board of Regents (see attached org chart for PA team structure) and developing a strategic communications plan for UA.

UA Government Relations is led by an associate vice president, who reports to VP/UR and handles state, federal and community relations including managing legislative needs.

UA Development is led by the president of the UA Foundation, who reports to the UA president and VP/UR.

UAF: UAF University Relations is led by a director of university relations, who reports directly to the chancellor.

University Relations is the public relations, communications and marketing arm of the advancement team, which also includes development, alumni relations and student affairs.

UAF University Relations is charged with supporting the overall institution’s internal and external communications and marketing, including media relations, social media, website management, brand management, crisis communications, reputation management and chancellor’s communications. In addition, UAF UR supports university events, fundraising, alumni and enrollment marketing/recruitment efforts.

Units throughout UAF employ staff members who do communication work as all or part of their jobs. Those positions, often referred to as “Public information officers” or “PIOs” report to unit leadership (dean or director) rather than to UAF UR. PIOs are members of the UAF Public Information Officers Council, which is chaired by University Relations.

UAA: UAA University Relations is led by an associate vice chancellor for university relations, who reports to the vice chancellor for advancement.

UAA University Relations is the marketing/communications arm of the Advancement team, which also includes development and alumni relations.

UAA University Relations is charged with supporting the overall institution’s internal and external communications and marketing, including media relations, social media, website management, brand management, crisis communications, reputation management and chancellor’s communications. In addition, UAA UR supports university events, fundraising, alumni and enrollment marketing efforts.

Some units and community campuses employ communications professionals or people who do communications work as a part of their jobs. Those positions do not report to UAA UR.

UAS: There is no formal university relations department at UAS. Marketing and public affairs are not formally linked and the public affairs function is an add-on to the duties of the chancellor’s executive assistant/PIO.

Marketing and communications function is done by specific units at UAS. There is a marketing manager for admissions [student recruitment] and a director who oversees alumni and development functions. The marketing manager reports to the Vice Chancellor of Student Enrollment and is not formally linked to the PIO.
The UAS PIO’s primary duties focus on supporting the Office of the Chancellor, with the added responsibilities of media relations and stakeholder communications.
NEEDS ASSESSMENT FRAMEWORK

1. ESTABLISHING THE PROTOCOL

   A. Define the goal[s] and rationale for the assessment

      i. Establish goals

      ii. Send memo to CFO/CHRO & chancellors outlining the process and asking chancellors to communicate to their respective deans/directors the expectations for their participation in the information gathering process.

      iii. Draft letter to deans/directors that will inform them about upcoming interviews, virtual desk audit and materials collection process.

      iv. Share framework and areas of study for the data pull with the UR Council

      v. Hire contractor to assist with the following data collection.

      vi. After all data is collected and an initial analysis done, the UR Council will convene to evaluate.

2. DATA TO BE COLLECTED / TOOLS TO BE USED

   A. Personnel [FTE] Review:

      i. Through SW HR—ask for list of employees in Communications Professionals classification [communication specialists [I-IV] / communication managers / executives] to determine base number of communicators. List will include name, email, title, FTE, unit, department, benefit rate and salary.

      ii. Campus UR will review information provided to determine if anyone is missing, and will add those names to spreadsheet.

      iii. Ask deans/directors to verify list and add any missing communications staff. (will establish guidelines for this, using tools list from work assessment as guideline)

      iv. Create a Survey Monkey virtual work assessment and distribute to final list of communications staff, which will determine the percentage of time spent on communications activities.

   B. Tools/Materials Review

      i. Create a list of tools and materials encompassing tools like social media accounts and materials like brochures and pens in order to have a uniform list of items.
ii. Interview deans/directors, asking them to identify (to the best of their abilities) which tools and materials are being used by their unit and the targeted audience. These interviews could take place with PIOs or other employee designated by the dean/director.

C. Budget Analysis

i. Create list of account codes that encompasses all communications related expenditures

ii. SW CFO [or team] will pull budgets for FY16 and FY17 for the listed account codes, separated by unit into “restricted” and “non-restricted” funding categories

iii. Result should show the costs associated with communication tasks by the two fiscal years across all campuses and Statewide.

Minutes for the ACDLITe Committee Meeting
September 8, 2017
SSB 120 Conference Room

Present: Geto Hailu, Veronica Howard, Matt Kupilik, Lorelei Sterling, Lynn Paterna, Dave Dannenberg, Adam Paulick, Barbara Harville, Kitty Deal, Joe LeFeur, Dennis Drinka, Dave Fitzgerald

1. Welcome new members Kitty and Joe

2. Election of chairs: Voted in Barbara Harville, Lorelei Sterling, and Lynn Paterna to continue as co-chairs. Lorelei will serve on UTC

3. Fall Technology Survey: Barbara described the various problems and issues in the classrooms with AV equipment. She will send out a short survey to get usable data to improve AV problems. Adam can give input on questions. Adam said he can help us with context. How can we fix them? Joe has been looking into models to be more successful. In College of Health we give 20 minutes SLA. What can we do with Saturdays or evening? Can we use a poll of students? Barb will have a draft of the survey for the next meeting.

4. AE&I undates: Dave Dannenberg reported Blackboard future updates will be formalize over the winter break after grades are due. It will probably just take a day to do it. Safeassignment repository of papers have been moved.

   Interim Chancellor wants on-line accreditation to be authorized to award a degree to other students in other states. State Authorization and Reciprocity Agreement (SARA) UAA is the only in system to join. Will start an online advisory council to report to the Chancellor. Will need a member from ACDLITe on the advisory council. Dave will talk about it at the next ACDLITe meeting. Will discuss what procedure and policies we need to uphold for accreditation and joining SARA.

   Strategic Planning has now an e-Learning Council. By next month we will have what that group is charged with.
5. IT updates: Adam Paulick: There is an updated report for Faculty Senate. There is a new e-mail policy:
   1. Stop automatic forwarding to personal accounts. Faculty would have to work out of their faculty account.
   2. Personal e-mail accounts.
   3. Records retention - the e-mail system is not a record for retention. If you have an attached document, more it to the appropriate place not stored in e-mails. Eventually, employees and students that leave UAA, will have their old e-mails purged. Will take written comments thru September 22.
   4. Plan to look at risks, prioritize them, and mitigate them.
   5. UTC meeting is October 20.
   6. Outside consultant looked at the way the campuses communicate and work together. The consultant will send recommendations to the President. May return.
   7. Web pages need to have accessible content on public website. Is working on some areas. OCR (Office of Civil Rights) sent letters that we have some problems. Blackboard Ally is a new way to help with accessibility.
   8. Looking for ways to cut cost for IT.

6. Faculty Senate updates: Dave Fitzgerald  E Board update: President Johnson joined meeting and talked about the consultant Adam talked about. President thinks many of the systems were chosen by admin not students and therefore are cumbersome for students to register.

7. eLearning Luncheon update: Lynn Paterna will be chair this year. The title of 2018 e-Learning Luncheon will be 2018 Accessibility and Course Design. Veronica Howard volunteered to present OER again. Naomi offered to be MC and will coordinate with Lucy Cuddy. Lynn will have the job assignments for the next meeting.

I. Roll call and welcome

Meeting was called to order at 3 pm.

II. Approval of agenda

Agenda was approved by the body with one minor change. Elections for co-chairs took place in March 2017 and it was decided that a re-vote was not necessary.

III. FSDC AY 2017-2018 Goals

1. Host two Diversity Dialogues
   a. co-sponsor event(s) with CAFÉ
2. Improve visibility
   a. Website development, update of diversity database
3. Support initiatives of the Interim Vice Chancellor, Alaska Natives & Diversity
   Jeane Breinig
   a. Implementation of DIAP, with focus on the Multicultural Postdoc and diversifying curriculum

The FSDC goals for the academic year were finalized as outlined above. With regards to goal #3 “Supporting initiatives of the Interim Vice Chancellor, Alaska Natives & Diversity Jeane Breinig”, the focus will for now be assistance in developing the Multicultural Postdoc program and topics related to diversifying curriculum. New topics consistent with the mission of FSDC will be considered in consultation with Dr. Breinig as the implementation plan of the DIAP evolves.

IV. Update on FSDC Website/Visibility/Database

- Emily Madsen and Gabe Garcia are working on updating the FSDC website. They are still working to gain permission/access to the website itself and aim to have this by next week.
- Gabe Garcia is talking to tri-chairs about the database going forward. This work is focused on faculty engaged in diversity, not necessarily just in courses taught. Gabe plans on sending out the survey from last year to update it with new faculty entry information. It remains dependent on response rate. Last time was 70+ faculty responding, so hopefully there will be more this time, and then we will send it out regularly. This database will be posted on the FSDC website, so that faculty who are interested in doing diversity work can contact and identify one another.

V. October 20th Diversity Dialogue

Decided on a title of “What is Diverse Curriculum”. Co-chairs Colleen Kelley and Erin Hicks will work on gather speakers for a panel to explore the topic. All faculty, staff, students, and all community members are invited.

VI. FSDC statement on diversity and inclusion at UAA

- Erin Hicks reported that as of 9/15 193 faculty had endorsed the diversity statement sent out on the faculty listserv. Erin also shared that the Ryan Hill, on behalf of the Staff Council, is circulating a similar statement for staff to endorse and they currently have 141 staff signatures. The endorsement of the FSDC statement on diversity and inclusion was not shared with the community by The Northern Light as hoped, but we will continue to consider opportunities to let our community know the value that UAA faculty place on remaining committed to diversity and inclusion.

- In addition Erin reported that the Faculty Senate had endorsed the statement, and that the resolution presented by FSDC to the Senate encouraging greater diversity in the hiring and appointments of Administration also passed.

VII. Updates from Vice Chancellor of Alaska Natives & Diversity Jeane Breinig

Vice Chancellor Breinig provided an update on implementation plans for the D&IAP. In summary, we learned that a lot of this work will take administrative decisions while another body of work will require faculty expertise. Specific topics discussed that FSDC can contribute to include:

- Vice Chancellor Breinig reported that the multicultural postdoc program is moving forward. The committee discussed what support would be most beneficial for FSDC to provide to this initiative. Discussions included FSDC aiding departments in exploring ways to meet the program requirements and in the review of program proposals for a postdoc position. The subcommittee that delivered a report on this program to the DIAP tri-chairs originated in FSDC and many FSDC members expressed willingness to continue to contribute to the program development.

- Vice Chancellor Breinig expressed the hope that FSDC would be involved in diversifying curriculum activities. She also mentioned that this effort would be best served through a collaboration of student services and faculty. The implementation advisory committee will hopefully work across units to figure out how to best benefit from these faculty and student services individuals as resources. The recommendation was made that faculty that want to be involved should step forward and form a committee. The model for the Alaska Native GER was recommended as a model to consider. Dan Kline was also suggested as a good contact person. With the Alaska Native GER it was noted that they didn’t want to create one class that everyone had to take since here are already enough classes across disciplines that would provide a more meaningful options for students (perhaps would need to add a student learning outcome to these courses). Maria talked about going through and identifying Alaska Native-related courses/diversity curriculum piece could use the same model. Jeane suggested FSDC could consider the criteria for deciding what qualifies as a diversity course. The Report on Diversifying the Curriculum submitted to the DIAP tri-chairs was submitted by subcommittee that originated in FSDC and many FSDC members expressed willingness to continue to contribute to the goals as expressed in the report.

VIII. Announcements

Next meeting Oct. 20th 3-4pm Diversity Dialogue: “What is Diverse Curriculum?”. Location to be announced.
The Committee’s tasks for this academic year include:

1. Conferring with the Provost to review the anticipated survey process including the possibility of a Community Campus survey.
2. Conferring with the Deans of CAS and the College of Engineering on the survey process (as follow-ups to more in depth discussions of last year). Commence initial dialog with a Community Campus Director should the Committee be instructed to survey a Community Campus.
3. Assisting the staff in developing an analogous survey.
4. Formatting and testing the survey(s).
5. Assembling the necessary listservs.
6. Promoting the survey(s).
7. Implementing the survey(s).
8. Completing post-survey dialogues with the Office of Academic Affairs and applicable Deans.

The Committee is preparing to survey the faculty of three colleges this academic year. During the month of September, Committee co-chairs conferred with the Provost on the survey’s intent and mechanisms, and with Dean Barlow of the College of Engineering. An electronic dialogue also commenced with Director Fugleberg of Kodiak College. In addition, on October 4th the Committee co-chairs will discuss the survey’s implementation with Dean Stalvey (College of Arts & Sciences). The Committee will meet this month immediately following the Faculty Senate’s October 6th meeting.

Resolution
Support for the Alaska Native Themed GER Initiative

WHEREAS, the University of Alaska has a significant Alaska Native population and our campuses are on lands that Indigenous peoples have inhabited for thousands of years and a significant number of our students are Alaska Native;

WHEREAS, in October 2015, the Alaska Native Studies Council (ANSC) brought before the UA Board of Regents the request that every UA student be required to successfully complete at least one Alaska Native themed course, whether an Alaska Native focused general education course (GER) or other curricular offering;

WHEREAS, the UA Board of Regents supported the ANSC request and forwarded the proposal to the UA Statewide GER Coordinating Alignment Task Force for consideration and recommendation;

WHEREAS, the GER Alignment Coordinating Task Force supported the request and recommended UAA, UAF, and UAS each incorporate the requirement in the way that best suits each institution’s mission;

WHEREAS, the UA Board of Regents and UA System President Johnsen fully endorsed the addition of an Alaska Native Themed GER in January 2017;

WHEREAS, the USUAS-JC Resolution 1516-05 and USUAA Resolution #16-17 to the UA-BOR endorsed the creation of an Alaska Native GER;

WHEREAS, courses that include Alaska Native content as part of the UA GER will enhance student learning and postgraduate success in Alaska, and Alaska Native Corporations are the state’s number one employer and contribute over 25% to the State’s GDP, and 75% of UA graduates secure jobs in Alaska;

WHEREAS, an Alaska Native themed GER corresponds to the University of Alaska’s Mission Statement regarding our commitment to “serving the higher education needs of the state, its communities, and its diverse peoples;”

WHEREAS, GER courses currently exist in UAA catalog that meet the criteria and Student Learning Outcomes for an Alaska Native themed GER; and

WHEREAS, has formally adopted a Diversity Action and Inclusion Plan that calls for Alaska Native recruitment, retention, and graduation and the development of a diverse and inclusive curriculum; now

THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED, the University of Alaska Anchorage Faculty Senate supports the adoption of the Alaska Native Themed GER to be moved through the curriculum review and governance process for an initial roll-out in Fall 2018.
A Resolution Concerning Faculty Governance and Tier 1 GER Courses

Whereas, a recent decision made by Interim Chancellor Gingerich concerning the shift of GER Tier 1 courses from the College of Arts and Sciences to the Community and Technical College was made with no apparent input from any faculty members; and

Whereas, the shift of multiple sections of 24 courses from one college to another is clearly a curricular matter; and

Whereas, per the AAUP’s “Statement on Government of Colleges and Universities,” curricular matters fall with the primary responsibility of the faculty; and

Whereas, per the AAUP’s “Statement on Government of Colleges and Universities,” the faculty should have a voice and decision-making authority in its areas of primary responsibility.

Therefore, be it resolved that the Faculty Senate expresses its concern and dismay over this breach of principles of shared governance and strongly urges Interim Chancellor Gingerich to adhere to these principles by ensuring the involvement of the faculty in decision-making in all areas of faculty primary responsibility, including but not limited to, curriculum and aspects of student life that pertain to the educational process.

It is an on-campus interview program that connects accounting students and graduates with local and national accounting firms. Eight accounting firms conducted about 100 job interviews with students in the University Hub.

Dean of Students Office: Student Conduct; Alcohol, Drug, and Wellness Education; and Care Team
On September 14, Brittney Kupec started work as UAA’s new Alcohol, Drug, and Wellness Educator. Brittney most recently served as a Prevention Specialist at Gillette College in Gillette, Wyoming.

The Dean of Students Office hosted Safety Awareness Month in September. The month-long series of events included a safety awareness resource fair, as well as events on self-defense, alcohol education, staying safe on campus, gender and violence, among others.

The Dean of Students Office published an online UAA Student Handbook which includes sections on campus safety, complaint procedures, and student rights, freedoms, and responsibilities (catalog.uaa.alaska.edu/handbook).
In addition, the Dean of Students Office printed a Student Handbook: Quick Reference Guide, containing a summary of information in the online handbook. Contact the Dean of Students Office (786-1214 or aydos@uaa.alaska.edu) to receive one.

Student Conduct & Ethical Development Coordinator Megan Wilbur and Care Team Coordinator Lisa Terwilliger are providing presentations on academic integrity and the Care Team to classes, upon request.

The third week of October is National Collegiate Alcohol Awareness Week (NCAAW). The Dean of Students Office is collaborating with multiple departments to offer a variety of events to educate the campus community about state laws and campus policies pertaining to alcohol, how alcohol affects individuals, signs of alcohol poisoning, and ways to cope without alcohol.

Disability Support Services (DSS)

DSS sponsored and attended the most popular event of Deaf Awareness Week in Anchorage: Passport to the Deaf World. Approximately 175 students, staff, faculty, and community members of all ages and skill sets attended this community event at UAA. Passport to the Deaf World focused on learning about the local Deaf community and American Sign Language (ASL). For this event, activities were set up for people to "travel" between stations. Each of the 13 activities was geared toward teaching and reinforcing different skill sets in Deaf communication. Deaf community members led stations and activities included storytelling, description, vocabulary expansion, gesture, and grammar structure. Due to its popularity, this event is now offered twice a year.

Military & Veteran Student Services (MVSS)

MVSS has seen an increase in the number of students utilizing VA education benefits.

Please remember that MVSS has an office on the lower level of the Student Union and is available to assist UAA military and Veteran students navigate the use of benefits or to provide general service and support.

Multicultural Center

The Multicultural Center partnered with the Alaska Institute of Justice/Alaska Immigration Project to discuss President Trump’s immigration policies and DACA on September 26 in Rasmuson Hall.

The Seawolf Success Program hosted by the Multicultural Center had its first mentor/mentee gathering on September 29.

Native Student Services (NSS)

NSS hosted its 2017 fall semester Welcome Potluck on September 8. The event welcomed incoming freshmen and returning Native students to UAA. Following the Welcome Potluck, the Native Student Council student club held their first meeting for the 2017-18 academic year.

On September 29, the NSS Director participated in the Aqqaluk Trust meeting. The Aqqaluk Trust is a foundation with a mission that focuses on educational and cultural activities in Northwest Alaska.

On October 18, NSS will host a “meet and greet” with the Arctic Education Foundation and its beneficiaries. The Arctic Education Foundation focuses on educational benefits for residents and descendants of the Arctic Slope region.

New Student Orientation (NSO)

New Student Orientation is hosted the UAA FUSION (For Unity and Service in Our Neighborhoods) events from September 25-29. University students volunteered to provide service to local non-profit organizations in an effort to help the residents of the Anchorage community. Service sites were provided by Cook Inlet Housing Authority, Anchorage Parks and Recreation, Alaska SPCA Thrift Store, and Fairview Elementary Family Night.

Office of the Registrar
UAA awarded 316 degrees and certificates for summer 2017.

Office of the Registrar staff are currently testing a DegreeWorks upgrade which they hope to implement within the next few weeks. Following the upgrade, staff will begin testing financial aid eligibility audits in DegreeWorks which will allow staff to ensure degree applicability of classes.

All students are now able to print FREE fall enrollment verifications through UAOnline.

Summer 2018 class schedule proofs were recently distributed to departments. These are due back on December 22.

Office of Financial Aid (OFA)
The 2018/19 Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) became available on October 1. Students are strongly encouraged to apply early.

New this year—starting October 1, students may begin applying for 2018/19 scholarships. The UA Foundation recently purchased a new scholarship software system, AcademicWorks. This software is designed to greatly improve the student application experience. Deadline for scholarships is still February 15, 2018. Since this software is new, OFA encourages students to email feedback or questions to: uaa_scholarships@alaska.edu.

Reminder that the fall Savvy Seawolf Financial Literacy Workshops has kicked off. The fall workshop schedule can be found at uaa.alaska.edu/students/financial-aid/financial-literacy/saavy-seawolf-workshop-calendar.

Residence Life
Residence Life staff accompanied three student staff members to The Northern Light’s Red Zone launch party. They hosted a table at the event and talked to students and community members about services offered on the residential campus when a student reports a sexual assault.

Residence Life staff interacting at The Northern Light’s Red Zone launch party.

Residence Life staff are working with Student Conduct staff to compare the last three years of residential student conduct for the month of September.

The CITC Prevention Team donated gift cards to the “Are You Afraid of the Dark” activity that was hosted in the Cama-i Room on September 28 for Safety Awareness Month. The activity gave participants a chance to pick an easy and a hard scenario, and then share what they would do in each scenario.

Residence Life staff are partnering with the Financial Aid Office to outreach to North Hall residents to help them complete their financial aid applications.

Student Health & Counseling Center (SHCC)
Since the beginning of the fall semester, the staff of the SHCC has supported students’ academic success through the provision of 2,189 health-related encounters. Physical health encounters numbered 1,889 and mental health care encounters numbered 300.

The SHCC Health Promotion Team welcomed Hannah Guzzi, M.A.Ed., as a Health Promotion Specialist. She joins Betty
Bang, APRN, and five student Peer Health Educators who facilitated the Bringing in the Bystander® (BIB) program to 107 students during the month of September. This team received the 2017 Chancellor’s Award for Excellence: Safety Stewardship, for their work promoting healthy and safe relationships. The team will be presenting the BIB training at the Lead on Peace and Equality Alaska Youth Summit in November.

The quadrivalent flu vaccines are now available to UAA students and community. Please call the SHCC to schedule an appointment, or to arrange an outreach clinic for your department.

On October 11, the SHCC will be hosting a Health Fair in Rasmuson Hall from 10:00 am to 2:00 pm. On-campus partners will be present, along with 24 community partners, including the National Park Service who will be highlighting the National ParkRx initiative connecting parks, community, and health agencies for the wellbeing of all.

Student Information Services
Between August 18 and September 18, Student Information Services staff responded to more than 3,800 phone calls. On the September 18 payment deadline, staff served more than 500 students via phone and in person visits.

Student Life & Leadership (SL&L)
Following a successful 2017 Campus Kick-Off, Student Life & Leadership continued to engage new and returning UAA students in campus programming, including several new initiatives.

The Emerging Leaders Program (ELP), one of SL&L's signature leadership programs, selected 28 students to participate in this year’s program, which will include retreats, workshops, community engagement opportunities, and a faculty/staff mentorship component. New this year, and based in large part on student feedback, the program will span only one academic year, versus the program’s previous length of three semesters (Fall, Spring, Fall). Last year’s participants who entered the program assuming a commitment of three semesters have are being uniquely engaged in serving as peer facilitators at the program’s opening retreat and fall workshops. More faculty and staff members volunteered to serve as ELP mentors than students selected for ELP, presenting an opportunity to explore other ways in which to connect ELP students with faculty and staff outside of formal mentorship roles.

Panhellenic Council concluded a successful Formal Recruitment (FR) process, with 32 of 33 matched women accepting their chapter bids for a total chapter membership of 55 this Fall 2017. This number matches Fall 2016 for the highest chapter membership total in recent history in UAA's Greek Life program. Now that the FR process has concluded for Fall 2017, the Panhellenic Exploratory/Extension Committee will be re-established to review this year’s performance make a recommendation about future expansion to the Panhellenic Council.

A new initiative of SL&L this year is to offer midweek programming for students in the Student Union throughout Fall 2017. These midweek events, sponsored by Student Activities and Commuter Programs, are intended to engage students in more hands-on and highly-interactive events. Events range in focus from spoken word and open mic nights; to gameshow, board game, and trivia nights; to DIY projects, art workshops, and more.

Reflecting one of its strategic focuses this year—advocacy—USUAA passed two new pieces of legislation this month, including: Resolution #18-02: “Promoting Diversity and Inclusion at the University of Alaska Anchorage” and Resolution #18-03: "Urging Congress To Protect The Deferred Action For Childhood Arrivals (DACA) Program."

Student Outreach & Transition (SO&T)
The University Hub staff celebrated United States Constitution Week from September 14-18. A table adorned in red, white, and blue was arranged at the entrance to the office showcasing the Preamble and “We the People” posters. Copies of the U.S. Constitution were available for students to take. Career Exploration and Services’ staff sponsored Constitution trivia on the department’s social media page.

SO&T, in collaboration with TRIO Programs hosted the Regional Educational Laboratory (REL) webinar, “Leveraging Postsecondary Data to Increase College Access” on September 20. The webinar explored how states and districts are using administrative postsecondary data to increase high school graduates’ college access and persistence.

The SO&T Fall Training was held on September 22. SO&T staff celebrated department and program successes, and explored the characteristics of high performance teams. Ryan Hill, Associate Director/MAC Residence Coordinator, led the staff in the Stay on Track team building exercise. Dr. Bruce Schultz, Vice Chancellor for Student Affairs, greeted the SO&T staff and provided updates and insights on the institutional changes underway at UAA.

Transition Advisors
University Hub Transition Advisors designed a tracking tool using Qualtrics. The Qualtrics tool will be used to record all student transition and exploratory advising appointments. The data will be accessible and useful for reporting, sharing of information between Transition Advisors, and an evaluation of the advising service students receive in the University Hub. The advisors launched the Qualtrics tool on Monday, September 25.

- Christina Gheen is the new Office Manager for CCEL and will be starting her job on 10/2/17. Christina has a long history with the university working with faculty and students, and we are happy to have her joining us!

- The Request for Proposals for the Alex Hills Engineering & Civic Engagement Award will be posted today with an award of $2500 to an engineering student or students for an innovative project with a community partner. CAFE is continuing work on expanding the use of AAC&U’s recognized High Impact Practices. The Center is facilitating ongoing meetings of the team that attended the AAC&U’s High Impact Practices Institute in Boston in June (see additional details in last month’s report). The team includes Dan Kline, Director of General Education; Jeane Breinig, Interim Associate Vice Chancellor for Diversity and Alaska Natives; Andre Thorn, Director of the Multicultural Center; Francisco Miranda of Undergraduate Research; Judy Owens-Manley, Director of the Center for Community Engagement and Learning (CCEL); and Shawnalee Whitney, Director of CAFE and team leader. The team will present at the upcoming GER Assessment session on 10/13. The team is working with Renee Carter-Chapman’s office and CCEL to create additional faculty development resources, including videos (for access “just in time” and via distance), that will be used to support increased adoption of these powerful teaching practices.

Veronica Howard (Psychology) has led two sessions on Open Educational Resources (OER) co-sponsored by CAFE and AI&e. Since their introduction to UAA by AI&e a few years ago, the available free-to-use resources have expanded substantially. As Dr. Howard shared in her session, evidence is emerging about how the adoption of OER contributes to student success in addition to saving them money. Dr. Howard’s co-presenters, faculty librarians D’Arcy Hutchings and Lorelei Sterling, shared how they have created a suite of support materials around OER available via the LibGuides on the Consortium Library website.

CAFE’s annual New Faculty Discussion Group offered seven new faculty the chance to share ideas and support for navigating their first few months at UAA or their first experiences as tenure-track faculty. The group focuses on Robert Boice’s book, “Advice for New Faculty,” which introduces the "most reliable research differentiating between new faculty who thrive and those who struggle.”

Especially in the aftermath of Charlottesville, many faculty at UAA and around the country are feeling the need to more directly tackle issues of race, religion, gender, power, privilege, identity and other "difficult dialogues" in the classroom. In two September workshops offered by CAFE on “Controversial Topics and Difficult Dialogues: Effectively Engaging Students in the Classroom”, UAA faculty (1) explored strategies for effectively introducing controversial topics and difficult dialogues in the classroom; (2) examined the broader context of the national Difficult Dialogues initiative; and (3) discussed the rights and responsibilities of academic freedom and how to effectively respond to unexpected controversy and/or disruptive students. The workshop, which repeats October 10, is based on UAA’s publication, Start Talking: A Handbook for Engaging Difficult Dialogues in Higher Education. This resource is available in PDF from the UAA Difficult Dialogues website.

The September 15 Faculty Networking Mixer drew approximately 40 faculty. These informal gatherings offer a wonderful opportunity for faculty to make connections across disciplines and departments, and put names to faces of individuals they have previously known only by email. Many thanks to UAA Conference and Catering Services and the Varsity Grill for underwriting and co-hosting this event.

- On September 20, CAFE’s Public Policy Debate and Faculty Forum (“Corporations are not people.”) drew nearly 100 people. The event showcased the internationally-award winning Seawolf Debate Program as well as a faculty response panel, featuring Clayton Trotter (Accounting and Finance), Ian Hartman (History), and Steve John McKay (formerly of Journalism and Communication).

- An EXITO Student Mentoring 3-part training for faculty and graduate student mentors of undergraduate researchers began in September and will continue in October. The National Research Mentoring Network (NRMN) provides training and support for research mentors and mentees. In association with the NIH-sponsored BUILD initiative, NRMN has developed a curriculum specifically for mentoring undergraduate research students. Through UAA’s participation in BUILD EXITO, and in collaboration with the Office of Undergraduate Research & Scholarship, the NRMN training is available to UAA faculty, the first time it has been offered to faculty or graduate students beyond the EXITO program. The sessions are recommended for all faculty members associated with the Office of Undergraduate Research & Scholarship or who supervise undergraduate researchers. Questions may be directed to Tracey Burke (Social Work) or Eric Murphy (Psychology).

- Two September sessions on Adjunct Teaching Support are a continuation of CAFE’s support for those teaching part-time at UAA. The sessions, which explored specific evidence-based practices in teaching and learning, were offered in the evening and on different days as a way to enable broader participation across the part-time faculty community.

Of note for October:

- CAFE has arranged for an opportunity for faculty to meet with Interim Chancellor Sam Gingrich and Interim Provost Duane Hrncir at two forums:

  ALL FACULTY: Wednesday, October 4, 3-4 pm, Library 307

  CHAIRS and DIRECTORS: Friday, October 20, 9-10 am, Library 307

  Sessions will be available to Community Campuses via OIT Video Conferencing.

  The meetings will have two purposes:

  * A report back by Interim Chancellor Gingrich on how his office has responded to comments made by faculty and chairs/directors over the past two years in conversations with him as (then) Provost, and

  *A chance to talk with Interim Provost Hrncir about where he can most effectively focus his energies to move things forward over the coming year.

- In a cooperative venture with Disability Support Services (DSS), CAFE is offering a Faculty Learning Community on best practices for ensuring access for all students and implementing the principles of Universal Design. Led by Karen Andrews, Director of DSS, this three-session series begins October 13 will include at least one hands-on session in which assistance will be available.
Faculty Fellows selected for the program who attend all three sessions, receive the book The Guide to Assisting Students With Disabilities: Equal Access in Health Science and Professional Education, and may be invited to showcase the results of their work at CAFE's Faculty Development Celebration in April.

ACADEMIC INNOVATIONS & eLEARNING

Professional Development

- CAFE & AI&e are finalizing the new UAA Teaching Academy Faculty Resources. This website will be a one stop faculty development and faculty learning community resource to assist all faculty in registering for upcoming events, finding resources, and exploring what other faculty are learning and researching through their participation in faculty learning communities. It is part of our continued effort to guide faculty to our development resources and encourage increased engagement.

- Upcoming event: eTech Fair: Focus Accessibility in Online Environments November 6 - 11, 2017. Call for presenters will go out early October. All sessions will be virtual using BB Collaborate.

Academic Technology

- A UA-system wide Blackboard upgrade has been scheduled for the period after grades are turned in for the Fall semester and before the end of winter break. This follows established UAA practice, so we should not see very little impact. Visual calendar attached at end of report.

- We are working to implement a new tool within UA Learn called Ally which will automatically run all course materials through an accessibility checklist that looks for common accessibility issues. Using advanced Machine Learning algorithms, Ally will also generate a range of more accessible alternatives for the instructor’s original materials, and will make these available to all students in the course. If you are interested in being part of a pilot program, please let the AI&e team know. Ally video

Eportfolio

- We are completing interviews on the eWolf Strategist position with the intent to fill the position in early October.

- There is continued strong interest in access to New Digication currently in beta testing here at UAA. Spring deployment will hinge on Digication completing their accessibility build/enhancements.

- We will be executing a collaboration engagement with Salt Lake Community College (SLCC) on developing training and support materials around New Digication.

- Many new and exciting initial engagements with both Academic and Student Affairs include AKNS/ANTHC digital storytelling, Emerging Leaders Program (ELP), Global Supply Chain Management, and the Master of Business Administration (MBA). There is continued ongoing interest in our efforts by non-UAA organizations.
- The number of new portfolios created in the last 30 days = 750.

Robust Online Learning Grant / Instructional Design

- We successfully rehired two Instructional Designers to our team. Kathryn Schild will continue working with our Title III Robust Online Learning grant and Tina Coulson is returning to UAA to work with the AI&e team. We hope to complete the rehiring process for the Instructional Designer 2 position in early October.

- Our external grant evaluator was on campus on October 3. We should have her analysis back in time for November’s report.

- Debbi Canavan and Heather Nash presented about the online master course model at the Quality Matters conference in September.

- Be sure to check the calendars for upcoming Quality Matters trainings to be held either face to face or online. Contact Debbi Canavan with any questions.

- A clarification is needed: the PSY 111 course that is being piloted this fall by the grant and a faculty member is a course design and development proof-of-concept project that could be used as a model for future course development (as an online master course shell or for any course); it is not an online master course being developed in conjunction with the Psychology department.

eLearning: Distance Student Services

- We hired Jim Smith as the primary proctor for our testing center. He comes to us from the Mat-Su testing center where he worked as a test proctor for the past year. Due to Jim's background, he has been able to assume the duties of the position with ease and is already "at home" with our services.

- The Blackboard Orientation for eLearning Students was made available to 5,335 students during the Fall 2017 semester.

- The semester kick-off student eNewsletter was sent out to a total of 5,312 eLearning students and had an open rate of 54%. Our faculty eNewsletter was sent out to 237 eLearning faculty with an open rate of 55%.

- eLearning Exam Distribution & Administration: staff processed 2,000 student proctor forms setting up testing locations. To date, our testing center has processed 1,600 exam appointments to be administered in the Gordon Hartlieb Hall (GHH) testing center during the semester.
Online Testing Services: RPNow has been set up in 40 online courses, with currently 274 unique students opting into the service (these numbers are expected to increase as we get closer to midterms & finals).
