The new American Council on Education (ACE) recommendations for DSST examination credit states that credit should be given for lower division finance courses. Therefore, the existing policy for granting DSST examination credit for the upper division BA A325 Corporate Finance course may be inappropriate.

Thus, the CBPP will no longer allow students to get credit for BA A325 from the DSST examination. There is no longer an UAA process for getting credit by examination for BA A325. Students passing the DSST exam for finance will receive credit for a lower division finance elective. BA A1. BA

This policy has been approved by the finance faculty and the CBPP Program Curriculum Committee.
