Applying for Academic Scholarships at UAA

UAA is using a new Alaska AcademicWorks scholarship application system for connecting students with scholarships. Students fill out a general UA scholarship application form and UAA campus-specific form. Your answers — including your major, GPA, and interests — will be used in an algorithm to find scholarships (<https://www.uaa.alaska.edu/students/financial-aid/scholarships/>).

Example: New Anchorage Police Citizen Academy Alumni Association Scholarship

To qualify for this scholarship a student must be enrolled in a Bachelor of Arts in Justice, Bachelor of Arts in Legal Studies, or an Associate of Applied Science in Paralegal Studies at UAA, must be a resident of Alaska, and must have a minimum 2.0 GPA.

Students who provide this information in their application will be automatically offered an opportunity to answer the question, “Do you have an interest in a career in law enforcement, the legal professions or public service?” If you reply yes, your application will be automatically reviewed by the selection committee.

Workshops

Workshops are available to learn more about the new Alaska AcademicWorks scholarship application process (<https://www.uaa.alaska.edu/students/financial-aid/workshops.cshhtml>).
