Licensure and Program Information

Application for obtaining an Alaska dental hygiene license requires a background check and disclosure of information concerning conviction of crimes. Disclosure of treatment for bipolar disorder, schizophrenia, paranoia, depression (except for situational or reactive depression), psychotic disorder, or other mental or physical condition or disability, and drug/alcohol misuse or addiction is required, accompanied by a statement from the appropriate health care provider indicating the applicant's ability to practice safely and competently. Refer to the Board of Dental Examiners' website for specific information. Employability may be affected by results of background checks and/or drug testing. A criminal background check is required for Alaskan Dental Hygiene licensure.

Clinical dental hygiene requires the ability to sit for long periods of time, good to excellent eye-hand coordination, and excellent fine hand motor skills. Dental hygienists are exposed to bacteria and viruses. Use of protective glasses, face masks and surgical type gloves and uniforms (style and design determined by faculty) is required.

Due to the nature of the work of a dental hygienist, students are not permitted in the classroom, laboratory, or clinic when under the influence of intoxicants, drugs, or medication affecting psycho-motor responses. Students suspected of substance abuse are subjected to the State of Alaska laws and penalties pertaining to alcohol and other drugs. Refer to the Drug Free Schools statement on the UAA web page.

When performing health care functions, dental hygienists must protect the health and safety of the public. Engaging in professional contact with the public while suffering from a contagious or infectious disease involving serious risk to public health constitutes unprofessional conduct.

Possible transfer of credits is available to graduates of an ADA accredited dental assisting program. Contact the Dental Hygiene program advisor for details prior to the first day of enrollment as a dental hygiene student.

Expenses beyond tuition generally include activity fees, instruments, uniforms, lab fees, student organization membership, graduation pin, immunizations, cost of yearly BLS class, licensure fees, student health insurance, and malpractice insurance for the Western Regional Examining Boards, professional liability insurance.

Once enrolled as a dental hygiene student, the student can anticipate a five-semester, 40-hour-per-week endeavor. Some evening classes and clinics are scheduled. Adherence to the American Dental Hygienists' Association code of ethics and UAA Student Code of Conduct is required. Code of Ethics can be obtained through the ADHA web page. UAA Code of Conduct is found on the UAA web page.

I have read and understand that information related to license and special program requirements for the UAA Dental Hygiene Program.
