      iii. AY21 NWCCU Mission Fulfillment Fellowship: Carrie King, Terry Kelly

3. Accreditation 2017/2018 and the Charge for the 2025 Accreditation Advisory Committee
   a. Goal is to build off of the 2017/2018 work (i.e., accommodations – maintain them, address the recommendations)
   b. Larry Foster will be a senior consultant from the 2017/2018 accreditation work
   c. NWCCU has a new set of standards and eligibility requirements, guidance from NWCCU will be ongoing
   d. UAA will define, as an institution, the implementation of the new standards and eligibility requirements
   e. Accreditation Advisory Committee is asked to read through the new standards and eligibility requirements and review the NWCCU website
   f. Advisory committee – charge to the committee is very open, as we will be learning more about the project as we move through implementing the new Standards.

4. What are the values by which we will do our work?
   - Transparency
   - Linking accreditation to other parts of the institution (i.e., the new strategic plan)
   - Student-centered
   - Inclusion across all campuses
   - Connecting the silos that exist at UAA
   - Coordination between the certification processes that are simultaneously occurring
   - Work that is practical and actionable
   - Sustainable processes
   - Data-driven
   - Incorporating our culture of diversity and inclusion, including the multiple efforts in these areas
   - Coordinating with other campuses
   - Realistic
   - Be sensitive to outlying considerations that could lead us in new, important directions and possibilities
   - Aspirational
   - Diversity lens
   - “Hard things are hard” – President Obama
   - Courageous
• Everyone is able to see their role in accreditation
• Being aware of the realities that we are in; being adaptable
• Culture of diversity (especially in consideration of Alaska Native communities); we are in the center of what is happening
• Communication
• Aspirational – in charge of our destiny
• Opportunity to tell our positive story
• Beyond compliance
• Celebratory
• “Yes, and” vs. “No, but” culture
• Being able to tell our story about who we are in a whole systems fashion
• Be willing to start small, test it and try it out
• An opportunity to build institutional capacity in humans (personal and professional development) and in resources, systems, structures
• “Culture eats strategy for breakfast” – Peter Drucker
• Rebuilding trust
• Given the size of the group, not everyone will be able to be present at every meeting, and folks agree to continue forward with the work

5. How does the accreditation effort fit with other UAA initiatives and what is your role?
   a. Be a spokesperson for the values of accreditation (student learning, student success) and the institutional mission in every setting/meeting/initiative
   b. Balance - avoid “accreditation fatigue.” Accreditation really is about the work we already do. It should be integrated into that work, rather than a special initiative.
