Who: All faculty, staff, and students are invited to attend! In particular, anyone engaged in assessment and evaluation activities for their area will want to attend! Academic assessment coordinators, deans, and campus directors are asked to attend or send a representative.

What: We will use the recent Graduate Exit Survey Report as a case study to help us think about how to evaluate Mission Fulfillment. We also will share some of the new tools built by Institutional Research to help us with that evaluation, and we will give an update on the Core Competency Landscape Survey that all academic programs and many support services will be completing.

Where: LIB 307 in Anchorage and Zoom.

When: Thursday, May 9, 2024, 9:00-11:30

Why: UAA is heading into its year of self-reflection around Mission Fulfillment, and the entire UAA community will be invited to participate in that self-reflection. The Retreat will be an opportunity to explore what that will look like!
