

Provost Runge

- Responses to UAA Administrator Reviews are due to the Provost by Monday the 7th.
- Preparing Budgets
  - If you want to budget for more tuition than the projections, it requires approval from Provost Runge and VC Bill Jacob with justifications for doing so.
- Monday's Cabinet meeting will involve a discussion on enrollment – please prepare to respond about your college's enrollment numbers and what you plan to do to raise those numbers now and in the future.
- The Anchorage Municipality has dedicated $3 million to UAA for students to use in OEC's and Certification programs and will include paying for tuition, textbooks, and even housing. The marketing will have to be very high level and we should have more information on this towards the Fall.
- Academic Continuity Workgroup
  - Goal is to try to figure out what detailed guidance we can give out to people that are asking about returning to campus in the Fall. Email Kelsey by June 15th specific questions that pertain to return to campus from faculty, staff, and students.
- Reminder - briefings are due for Chancellor Parnell due to OAA by Tuesday the 8th

Vice Provost Kalina

- Student Accident Insurance – our goal is to pull together a list of programs that already have this insurance so we have a clear understanding across the college's what programs have it and why.
- Program Review meetings have happened and final recommendations will come out in a few weeks.
- Academic Planning meetings will be scheduled in July with the Provost to figure out planning templates, pre-req issues etc.
